SAP Certified Associate - Configuring SAP Ariba Strategic Sourcing Suite Sample Questions (Q40-Q45):

NEW QUESTION # 40

Which syntax is used for writing custom Validity Conditions?

- A. XML
- B. Scheme
- C. Python
- D. Regular expression

Answer: D

Explanation:

SAP Ariba uses an expression language based on Object-Graph Navigation Language (OGNL) to define custom validity conditions on fields. Within these expressions, regular expressions (regex) are supported to perform complex pattern validations, such as validating email formats or custom string structures. Other programming languages like Python, Scheme, or XML are not supported for this purpose. The use of regular expressions within SAP Ariba's validity conditions provides powerful, flexible validation capabilities, allowing administrators to enforce data quality rules precisely at the field level, consistent with official SAP Ariba documentation on validation expressions.

NEW QUESTION # 41

During which SAP Activate Methodology phase do you define the customer requirements?

- A. Design
- B. Discover
- C. Explore
- D. Define

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 42

When you create a custom field, how do you define where the field is added?

- A. The field is added to a class, identified by the record ID

- B. The field is added to a project header, identified by the templateClass ID
- C. The field is added to a class, identified by a class name
- D. Each field can be linked to multiple screens, identified via UI GroupClass ID

Answer: C

Explanation:

In SAP Ariba, custom fields are associated with a specific class identified by its class name, such as ContractWorkspace or ProcureLineItem. This class-level association determines where the field is available within the application. When added to a parent class, the field inherits to all its subclasses, affecting all relevant data objects. The field is not linked via UI group IDs, project templates, or record IDs, which relate to different configuration aspects. This class-based design supports consistent data models and inheritance in SAP Ariba's architecture.
