What is a benefit of installing the Splunk Common Information Model (CIM) add-on?

- A. It provides users with a standardized set of field names and tags to normalize data.
- B. It permits users to create workflow actions to align with industry standards.
- C. It enables users to itemize their events based on the results of the Search Job Inspector.
- D. It allows users to create 3-D models of their data and export these visualizations.

Answer: A

Explanation:

It provides users with a standardized set of field names and tags to normalize data.

The Splunk CIM add-on provides a standardized set of field names and data models, which allows users to normalize and categorize data from various sources into a common format. This helps with data interoperability and enables faster, more consistent reporting and searching across different data sources.

NEW QUESTION # 117

Which workflow action method can be used the action type is set to link?

- A. GET
- B. Search
- C. UPDATE
- D. PUT

Answer: A

Explanation:

<https://docs.splunk.com/Documentation/Splunk/8.0.2/Knowledge/SetupaGETworkflowaction> Define a GET workflow action Steps

* Navigate to Settings > Fields > Workflow Actions.

* Click New to open up a new workflow action form.

* Define a Label for the action.

The Label field enables you to define the text that is displayed in either the field or event workflow menu.

Labels can be static or include the value of relevant fields.

* Determine whether the workflow action applies to specific fields or event types in your data.

Use Apply only to the following fields to identify one or more fields. When you identify fields, the workflow action only appears for events that have those fields, either in their event menu or field menus. If you leave it blank or enter an asterisk the action appears in menus for all fields.

Use Apply only to the following event types to identify one or more event types. If you identify an event type, the workflow action only appears in the event menus for events that belong to the event type.

* For Show action in determine whether you want the action to appear in the Event menu, the Fields menus, or Both.

* Set Action type to link.

* In URI provide a URI for the location of the external resource that you want to send your field values to.

Similar to the Label setting, when you declare the value of a field, you use the name of the field enclosed by dollar signs.

Variables passed in GET actions via URIs are automatically URL encoded during transmission. This means you can include values that have spaces between words or punctuation characters.

* Under Open link in, determine whether the workflow action displays in the current window or if it opens the link in a new window.

* Set the Link method to get.

* Click Save to save your workflow action definition.
