EXIN Certified Data Center Facilities Operations Manager Sample Questions (Q41-Q46):

NEW QUESTION # 41

Data center operators complain about receiving too many non-alarm conditions.

What is the best response?

- A. Conduct a review of alarm information
- B. Retrain staff on how to monitor the data center equipment
- C. Upgrade the monitoring system software to the latest version
- D. Instruct data center operators to ignore the non-alarm notifications

Answer: A

Explanation:

When operators receive excessivenon-alarm notifications, this indicates that:

- * Thresholds are not well-configured
- * Events are misclassified
- * Alarm definitions are incorrect
- * Monitoring profiles require tuning

EPI's monitoring best practices state that the correct response is to:
Review alarm information and adjust definitions, thresholds, and filtering.
This ensures that:

- * Only relevant alarms reach operators
- * Noise is minimized
- * Operators maintain focus on true issues
- * SLA-related metrics are accurately monitored

Why other options are incorrect:

- * A: Training is secondary and will not fix incorrect alarm settings.
- * C: Ignoring notifications is dangerous and violates operational control.
- * D: Upgrading software may not resolve the underlying configuration problem.

Thus, B is correct.

EPI DCFOM-Aligned Reference Concepts (Paraphrased)

- * Monitoring systems must generate actionable alarms, not noise.
- * Alarm thresholds and event filters must be reviewed and optimized regularly.

NEW QUESTION # 42

Of the below, which is a non-renewable energy source?

- A. Wind energy
- B. Hydropower
- C. Natural Gas
- D. Tidal power

Answer: C

Explanation:

Non-renewable energy sources are those that:

- * Cannot be replenished within a human lifespan
- * Exist in finite quantities
- * Are extracted from fossil fuels or geological deposits

Natural gas is a fossil fuel and therefore non-renewable.

Why the other options are incorrect:

- * Wind energy- renewable
- * Tidal power- renewable
- * Hydropower- renewable

Thus, A is correct.

EPI DCFOM-Aligned Reference Concepts (Paraphrased)

- * Sustainability planning considers renewable vs. non-renewable sources.
- * Natural gas is listed as a fossil fuel, hence non-renewable.

NEW QUESTION # 43

Training programs need to be selected.

Of the below, which is the first activity to start with?

- A. Review the skills matrix
- B. Compare prices of various training programs
- C. Contact training providers requesting for brochures
- D. Create inventory of the services in the service catalog

Answer: A

Explanation:

Training must be aligned with actual operational needs and competency gaps.

The skills matrix is the tool that provides:

- * Current skill levels of staff
- * Required skill levels per role
- * Identified gaps
- * Training needs based on operational requirements

Therefore, the first step is to review the skills matrix to determine what training is actually needed.

Why other options are incorrect:

- * A: Service catalog inventory is part of SLM, not training selection.
- * B: Contacting vendors is premature without knowing training needs.
- * D: Price comparison should occur later, after training needs are defined.

Thus, C is correct.

EPI DCFOM-Aligned Reference Concepts (Paraphrased)

- * Skills matrix is the foundation for determining training needs.
- * Training selection must be based on capability gaps, not brochures or pricing.

NEW QUESTION # 44

Out of the below, which one is not part of the needs analysis?

- A. Legal requirements
- B. Business requirements
- C. Physical infrastructure requirements
- D. Commercial requirements

Answer: D

Explanation:

A Needs Analysis is performed to understand what the customer or organization requires before defining or delivering services.

EPI describes Needs Analysis as capturing:

- * Business Requirements: What the organization must achieve operationally.
- * Physical Infrastructure Requirements: Requirements for power, cooling, space, connectivity, redundancy, capacity, etc.
- * Legal Requirements: Compliance obligations such as regulatory, contractual, jurisdictional, and statutory rules.

However, Commercial Requirements (pricing, costs, margins, commercial terms) are not part of the Needs Analysis.

These are considered during commercial evaluation, service portfolio development, or financial management, not in defining operational needs.

Thus, the correct answer is C - Commercial requirements.

EPI DCFOM-Aligned Reference Concepts (Paraphrased)

- * Needs analysis focuses on business, infrastructure, and legal needs.
- * Commercial factors are handled separately outside the needs analysis phase.

NEW QUESTION # 45

According to the World Economic Forum, which of the below is the largest global risk of the next decade?

- A. Water scarcity
- B. Air quality in large cities
- C. Global climate change
- D. Earthquakes

Answer: C

Explanation:

While not strictly internal to EPI's core domain (which deals with data centre operations), this question refers to the external risk landscape, as identified by the World Economic Forum (WEF). The WEF's Global Risks Report 2025 shows that environmental risks dominate the 10-year horizon, with extreme weather, ecosystem collapse, and climate-related disruption ranking highest.

Specifically, global climate change (or extreme weather/climate-related events) is rated as the most severe risk over the next decade. While water scarcity and air quality are significant, the WEF ranks climate change / extreme weather as the top long-term threat. Therefore, option A is the most correct.

EPI DCFOM-Aligned Reference Concepts (Paraphrased)

- * Environmental sustainability forms a major component of data centre operations risk and resilience planning.
- * External macro-risks such as climate change must be integrated into facility resilience, power planning, cooling design, and business continuity strategies.
