NEW QUESTION # 37

What happens when broker.rack configuration is provided in broker configuration in Kafka cluster?

- A. Each rack contains all the topics and partitions, effectively making Kafka highly available
- B. You can use the same broker.id as long as they have different broker.rack configuration
- C. Replicas for a partition are placed in the same rack
- D. Replicas for a partition are spread across different racks

Answer: D

Explanation:

Partitions for newly created topics are assigned in a rack alternating manner, this is the only change broker.rack does

NEW QUESTION # 38

You are sending messages to a Kafka cluster in JSON format and want to add more information related to each message:

- * Format of the message payload
- * Message creation time
- * A globally unique identifier that allows the message to be traced through the system Where should this additional information be set?

- A. Broker
- B. Key
- C. Header
- D. Value

Answer: C

Explanation:

Kafka message headers are the right place to include metadata such as:

- * Payload format (e.g., schema version)
- * Timestamps (custom)
- * Trace or correlation IDs

From Kafka Producer API Docs:

"Headers are a map of key-value pairs that can be used to include metadata alongside the message, without modifying the message body."

- * Keys determine partitioning and ordering
- * Values are the message payload
- * Brokers do not store arbitrary metadata fields

Reference: Kafka ProducerRecord API > Headers

NEW QUESTION # 39

If a topic has a replication factor of 3...

- A. Each partition will live on 3 different brokers
- B. 3 replicas of the same data will live on 1 broker
- C. Each partition will live on 4 different brokers
- D. Each partition will live on 2 different brokers

Answer: A

Explanation:

Replicas are spread across available brokers, and each replica = one broker. RF 3 = 3 brokers

NEW QUESTION # 40

I am producing Avro data on my Kafka cluster that is integrated with the Confluent Schema Registry. After a schema change that is incompatible, I know my data will be rejected. Which component will reject the data?

- A. Zookeeper
- B. The Kafka Producer itself
- C. The Kafka Broker

- D. The Confluent Schema Registry

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Confluent Schema Registry is your safeguard against incompatible schema changes and will be the component that ensures no breaking schema evolution will be possible. Kafka Brokers do not look at your payload and your payload schema, and therefore will not reject data

NEW QUESTION # 41

A consumer application runs once a week and reads from a Kafka topic. The last time the application ran, the last offset processed was 217. The application is configured with `auto.offset.reset` set to "latest". The current offsets in the topic start at 318 and end at 588.

What offset will the application start reading when it starts up for its next run?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: B
