NEW QUESTION # 130

A manufacturing company is implementing the service management features for Dynamics 365 Supply Chain Management. The company has two legal entities: one for manufacturing and one for servicing and repairs.

The company manufactures a group of inventoried items for serialized devices at a single manufacturing location.

The items are used to service devices at a single servicing location.

The company has customers who must make an appointment at the servicing location at least once a year to have their devices inspected and serviced.

You need to configure a service object for this scenario.

What should you configure as a service object?

- A. services to perform annually
- B. manufacturing legal entity
- C. device
- D. servicing and repairs legal entity

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 131

You are a production manager at a company which produces large batches of coffee and creamers.

After a quality inspection, batch 120008 of your cold brew coffee (item number CB-0001) was found to be too acidic and must be reworked.

You need to add 20 grams of sugar and stir the product for an additional 0.5 hours.

What three actions are required on the rework order? Each correct answer presents part of the solution.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

- A. Delete all items from the production formula except for 20 grams of sugar.
- B. Delete all route operations except for a half an hour stirring operation.
- C. Add a route operation for 0.5 run time hours of stirring.
- D. Add 20 grams of sugar to the production formula.
- E. Manually reserve batch 120008 after estimating the batch order.

Answer: C,D,E

Explanation:

The correct answer is B, C, and E. Here is the explanation:

* To rework a batch order in Dynamics 365 Supply Chain Management, you need to create a new batch order and set the Rework batch toggle to Yes1. You also need to select the Batch number of the original batch that needs to be reworked1. The new batch order will have only one formula line that represents the original batch, and no route operations1.

* To add 20 grams of sugar and stir the product for an additional 0.5 hours, you need to do the following actions on the rework order:

* Add 20 grams of sugar to the production formula. You can do this by clicking on the Formula option on the All production orders form and adding a new formula line for sugar with a quantity of 20 grams1. You can also specify the ingredient type for sugar, such as Compensating or Filler2.

* Add a route operation for 0.5 run time hours of stirring. You can do this by clicking on the Route option on the All production orders form and adding a new route operation for stirring with a run time of 0.5 hours1. You can also specify the resource or resource group that will perform the stirring operation3.

* Delete all route operations except for a half an hour stirring operation. You can do this by clicking on the Route option on the All production orders form and deleting any existing route operations that are not related to stirring1. This way, you can avoid unnecessary steps and costs for the rework order.

NEW QUESTION # 132

You need to configure production operations for the pine and orange scent solutions.

Which three actions should you perform? Each correct answer presents part of the solution.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

- A. Configure the inventory policy for the item model group to set the value of the Stocked product option to Yes.
- B. Configure the BOM line to be of type Vendor and associate the corresponding vendor account.
- C. Allocate subcontracted work in its own cost breakdown block.
- D. Configure a costing resource and requirement to point to a Vendor type resource.
- E. Use a purchase agreement as a service agreement.

Answer: B,C,D
