ECCouncil Certified Threat Intelligence Analyst Sample Questions (Q48-Q53):

NEW QUESTION # 48
In which of the following levels of the Threat Hunting Maturity Model (HMM) does an organization use threat intelligence to search for anomalies in the network, follow the latest threat reports gathered from open and closed sources, and use open-source tools for analysis?

- A. Level 4: Leading
- B. Level 3: Innovative
- C. Level 1: Minimal
- D. Level 2: Procedural

Answer: D

Explanation:

In the Threat Hunting Maturity Model (HMM), Level 2: Procedural represents an organization that has developed a structured but partially manual threat-hunting capability.
At this stage, organizations:
* Use threat intelligence from open and closed sources to guide hunts.
* Search for anomalies or suspicious activity across their network.
* Employ open-source tools and basic scripts for analysis.
* Depend on analysts following documented procedures rather than automated systems.
Why the Other Options Are Incorrect:
* Level 1: Minimal: Organization relies solely on reactive security measures and lacks dedicated hunting capabilities.
* Level 3: Innovative: Introduces automation and advanced analytics to support hunts.
* Level 4: Leading: Represents full maturity with proactive, automated, intelligence-driven hunting integrated across all defenses.
Conclusion:
The organization described is operating at Level 2: Procedural in the Threat Hunting Maturity Model.
Final Answer: A. Level 2: Procedural
Explanation Reference (Based on CTIA Study Concepts):
According to CTIA's framework on "Threat Hunting Maturity Levels," Level 2 involves intelligence-driven, manual hunting using open-source tools and structured procedures.

NEW QUESTION # 49
Alice, a threat intelligence analyst at HiTech Cyber Solutions, wants to gather information for identifying emerging threats to the organization and implement essential techniques to prevent their systems and networks from such attacks. Alice is searching for online sources to obtain information such as the method used to launch an attack, and techniques and tools used to perform an attack and the procedures followed for covering the tracks after an attack.
Which of the following online sources should Alice use to gather such information?

- A. Social network settings
- B. Job sites
- C. Hacking forums
- D. Financial services

Answer: C

Explanation:
Alice, looking to gather information on emerging threats including attack methods, tools, and post-attack techniques, should turn to hacking forums. These online platforms are frequented by cybercriminals and security researchers alike, where information on the latest exploits, malware, and hacking techniques is shared and discussed. Hacking forums can provide real-time insights into the tactics, techniques, and procedures (TTPs) used by threat actors, offering a valuable resource for threat intelligence analysts aiming to enhance their organization's defenses.References:

NEW QUESTION # 50
Tech Crunch Inc. has hired John, who is a professional threat intelligence analyst. He was asked to conduct threat intelligence analysis that provides contextual information about the security events and incidents that further help the organization to disclose potential risks, provide greater insight into attacker methodologies, identify past malicious activities, and perform investigations on malicious activities in a more efficient way.
Identify the type of threat intelligence John is going to perform for the organization.

- A. Operational threat intelligence
- B. Technical threat intelligence
- C. Tactical threat intelligence
- D. Strategic threat intelligence

Answer: A

Explanation:
The description focuses on contextual information about events and incidents, including attacker methodologies, risks, and historical malicious activity. This aligns with Operational Threat Intelligence.
Operational Threat Intelligence provides actionable insights about current or recent attacks, giving context that supports incident response and security operations. It connects individual technical indicators with the larger picture of attacker campaigns and motives.

Why the Other Options Are Incorrect:

* B. Strategic threat intelligence: Focuses on long-term, high-level planning for executives.
* C. Technical threat intelligence: Deals with raw indicators such as hashes, IPs, and URLs.
* D. Tactical threat intelligence: Focuses on adversary TTPs for defense operations, not contextual event analysis.

Conclusion:

John is performing Operational Threat Intelligence, which enriches event data with contextual information for investigation and response.

Final Answer: A. Operational threat intelligence

Explanation Reference (Based on CTIA Study Concepts):

CTIA defines operational threat intelligence as intelligence that provides context for incidents and ongoing attacks, helping organizations understand threats at a campaign or activity level.

NEW QUESTION # 51

Sarah is a security operations center (SOC) analyst working at JW Williams and Sons organization based in Chicago. As a part of security operations, she contacts information providers (sharing partners) for gathering information such as collections of validated and prioritized threat indicators along with a detailed technical analysis of malware samples, botnets, DDoS attack methods, and various other malicious tools. She further used the collected information at the tactical and operational levels.

Sarah obtained the required information from which of the following types of sharing partner?

* A. Providers of threat indicators
* B. Providers of comprehensive cyber-threat intelligence
* C. Providers of threat data feeds
* D. Providers of threat actors

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 52

Cybersol Technologies initiated a cyber-threat intelligence program with a team of threat intelligence analysts. During the process, the analysts started converting the raw data into useful information by applying various techniques, such as machine-based techniques, and statistical methods.

In which of the following phases of the threat intelligence lifecycle is the threat intelligence team currently working?

* A. Dissemination and integration
* B. Planning and direction
* C. Processing and exploitation
* D. Analysis and production

Answer: C
