CIPS Commercial Negotiation Sample Questions (Q178-Q183):

NEW QUESTION # 178

One difference between perfect competition and monopolistic competition is that...?

- A. Monopolistic competition has no barriers to entry
- B. In perfect competition, firms produce slightly differentiated products
- C. Firms in monopolistic competition face a downward-sloping demand curve
- D. A perfectly competitive industry has fewer firms.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Monopolistic competition exists in market where there are many competing producers but they will try to use product differentiation. Although their products may be very similar, their ability to differentiate means that they can act as monopolies in short run, irrespective of the actions of their competitors.

In perfect competition, there are no barriers to entry to the market or exit from the market. In monopolistic competition, there tend to be fewer barriers to entry or exit in these markets than in oligopolistic markets, but it doesn't mean that there are absolutely no barriers to entry in monopolistic competition.

In perfect competition, the demand curve is perfectly elastic, which means that it will be horizontal.

Otherwise, in monopolistic competition market, the demand curve will have normal downward slope.

NEW QUESTION # 179

Which of the following are tools that help procurement visualise cost breakdowns of products and services purchased from supplier?

1. Spend candlesticks
2. Spend tree
3. Aggregate expenditure model
4. Spendwaterfall

- A. 1 and 3 only
- B. 3 and 4 only
- C. 1 and 2 only
- D. 2 and 4 only

Answer: D

Explanation:

Understanding where and with whom your supplier spends their money, or understanding the 'cost breakdowns' or 'price build-up' of the goods and services you purchase from the supplier, will help you know where and when they can offer price concessions. Cost information can be expressed with more impact through graphs that can be created using Excel and PowerPoint or other softwares. There are two commonly used models known as 'spend waterfall' and 'spend tree'. Spend waterfall shows the build-up of costs, while the spend tree shows all the spends that an organisation makes.

There is no graph known as 'spend candlesticks'. Candlestick chart is a style of financial chart used to describe price movements of a security, derivative, or currency.

The aggregate expenditure model is a method of calculating GDP. The aggregate expenditure model focuses on the relationships between production (GDP) and planned spending:  $GDP = \text{planned spending} = \text{consumption} + \text{investment} + \text{government purchases} + \text{net exports}$ .

NEW QUESTION # 180

Which of the following is considered a weakness of a 'dealer' style negotiator?

- A. May be too assertive
- B. May shift position quickly
- C. Focuses on the facts and not the people
- D. Very precise

Answer: B

Explanation:

A useful and simple shorthand for preferred negotiation styles is summarised by four simple descriptors:

'warm', 'tough', 'logical' and 'dealer', which can be applied to describe individuals' dominant preferred style in most circumstances.

Warm - a people person

Tough - a hard-nosed negotiator

Logic - a numbers person

Dealer - a trader who loves bargaining

Strengths, weaknesses of dealer style are described below:

Table Description automatically generated

Strengths	Weaknesses	How to deal with them
Builds relationships	Tends to neglect detail	Try to understand their underlying interests
Effective communicator	May shift position quickly	Summarise and test their understanding frequently
Listens to the other party	May be superficial in personal relationships	Trade concessions
Interrelates issues easily and makes quick decisions	Agreements made can be difficult to implement	Do not move too easily
Creative/sees opportunities	Tends to neglect long-term goals	Separate facts from assumptions

NEW QUESTION # 181

The activity of listening in a negotiation includes which of the following processes?

Hearing
Interpreting
Rapport
Influencing

- A. 1 and 3 only
- B. 2 and 3 only
- C. 1 and 2 only
- D. 2 and 4 only

Answer: C

Explanation:

Listening involves both hearing (1) and interpreting (2) the information shared by the other party. Effective listening is an active process that goes beyond simply hearing words; it involves interpreting meaning, understanding the speaker's intent, and responding accordingly. CIPS emphasizes these steps as part of effective communication in negotiations.

NEW QUESTION # 182

XYZ Ltd needs to purchase a bundle of IT products from suppliers. The procurement manager requests details of costs regarding designing and managing those products. After receiving reports from suppliers, she realises that they have charged up to a 1,095% mark-up on IT products. In order to ensure value for money, which of the following should be a priority pricing arrangement of the procurement manager in the negotiation with these IT suppliers?

- A. Market skimming
- B. Market penetration pricing
- C. Cost plus arrangement
- D. Premium pricing

Answer: C

Explanation:

In the scenario, the main cost driver is suppliers' mark-up. The priority should be limit the margin to be added.

XYZ Ltd can agree "cost plus" contracts with their suppliers to ensure no IT product purchased exceeds an agreed maximum margin level. Procurement teams can use their benchmarking tools to police these contracts.

Cost plus contracts are agreements where the contractor's pricing is based on itemising allowable costs and then adding an agreed margin.

Market penetration pricing - pricing low to win a large share of the market Market skimming - pricing a new product high in order to make a large profit from the purchases by initial customers. This is an effective strategy only in the absence of competition. When competition appears, market skimmers usually drop their prices Premium pricing - usually pricing high because the market is prepared to pay extra for the kudos associated with the product, thanks to, say, a reputation for quality, or a highly fashionable brand name, and so on
