CCE Global Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Examination (CPCE) Sample Questions (Q64-Q69):

NEW QUESTION # 64

Which of the following is person-centered task of a counseling group leader?

- A. helping group members satisfy their basic needs
- B. navigating group members' resistance to behavior change
- C. facilitating group members' honest and meaningful interactions

Answer: C

Explanation:

A key person-centered task for group leaders is facilitating honest and meaningful interactions among group members. This approach, rooted in the work of Carl Rogers, focuses on creating a safe and accepting environment that encourages authenticity and personal growth.

NEW QUESTION # 65

What is an example of advocating on behalf of the counseling profession?

- A. attending a state-level professional counseling conference
- B. practicing cultural competence when meeting with clients
- C. providing pro bono counseling services at a small organization

Answer: A

Explanation:

Attending a state-level professional counseling conference is an example of professional advocacy. Such participation allows counselors to stay informed about legislation, professional issues, and advancements in the field, and to contribute to the development of the profession. Professional advocacy also includes lobbying for the profession, involvement in professional organizations, and participating in policy-making that affects counselors and clients.

NEW QUESTION # 66

When counselors are reluctant to tell clients bad news even though disclosing the information is in the client's best interest, the counselors are exhibiting what is known as the

- A. mum effect.
- B. passive-aggressive response.
- C. displacement defense.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The mum effect refers to the tendency to withhold or soften the delivery of unpleasant or bad news. In counseling, this can occur when a counselor avoids giving clients information that is necessary but potentially upsetting, even though disclosure would be in the client's best interest.

NEW QUESTION # 67

Which method of counseling assessment provides context for the interpretation of other assessment results and is considered the cornerstone of clinical assessment?

- A. the initial interview
- B. the Vanderbilt Assessment Scale
- C. the Global Assessment of Functioning

Answer: A

Explanation:

The initial interview is considered the cornerstone of clinical assessment. It provides essential context for understanding and interpreting the results of other assessment tools, allowing the counselor to gather background information, clarify presenting problems, and build rapport. "The initial interview forms the basis for case conceptualization and the integration of subsequent assessment data." Reference: Helwig, A. A. (2020). CPCE Study Guide and Review; Gladding, S. T. (2018). Counseling: A Comprehensive Profession (8th Edition).

NEW QUESTION # 68

Lucy, a preschooler, learns through play. She likes to build puzzles and cook with her mother. According to the psychosocial stages of development, Lucy is in which stage?

- A. initiative vs. guilt
- B. identity vs. role confusion
- C. trust vs. mistrust

Answer: A

Explanation:

According to Erik Erikson's psychosocial stages of development, the initiative vs. guilt stage occurs during the preschool years (ages 3-6). During this stage, children assert themselves more frequently through directing play and other social interaction. Learning through play, exploration, and engaging in activities such as building puzzles or cooking fits this stage. Children develop initiative when encouraged and supported in their efforts; if not, they may develop guilt over their needs and desires.
