CompTIA Data+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q190-Q195):

NEW QUESTION # 190

Mario works with a group of R programmers tasked with copying data from an accounting system into a data warehouse. In what phase are the group's R skills most relevant?

- A. Purge.
- B. Transform
- C. Load.
- D. Extract.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Correct answer C. Transform

The R programming language is used to manipulate and model data.

In the ETL process, this activity normally takes place during the Transform phase.

The Extract and Load phases typically use database-centric tools.

Purging data from database is typically done using SQL.

NEW QUESTION # 191

A data analyst for a media company needs to determine the most popular movie genre. Given the table below:

□ Which of the following must be done to the Genre column before this task can be completed?

- A. Delimit
- B. Concatenate
- C. Append
- D. Merge

Answer: A

Explanation:

The action that must be done to the Genre column before this task can be completed is delimit. Delimit is a process of separating or splitting a string of text into multiple parts based on a delimiter, which is a character or a sequence of characters that marks the boundary between the parts. For example, a comma (,) or a semicolon (;) can be used as a delimiter. In this case, the Genre column contains multiple genres for each movie, separated by commas. To determine the most popular movie genre, the data analyst needs to delimit the Genre column by commas, so that each genre can be counted and compared separately. The other options are not relevant for this task, as they are related to combining or joining strings or tables, not separating them.

Append is a process of adding or attaching one string or table to the end of another string or table. Merge is a process of combining or joining two or more tables into one table based on a common column or key.

Concatenate is a process of joining or linking two or more strings together into one string. Reference: [How to Split Text in Excel - Exceljet]

NEW QUESTION # 192

A publishing group has requested a dashboard to track submissions before publication. A key requirement is that all changes are tracked, as multiple users will be checking out documents and editing them before submissions are considered final. Which of the following is the BEST way to meet this stakeholder requirement?

- A. Present a data refresh date at the top of the dashboard.
- B. Use permissions to ensure users only see certain versions of the submissions.
- C. Confirm the dashboard is adhering to the corporate style guide.
- D. Display the version number next to each submission on the dashboard.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 193

Alex wants to use data from his corporate sale, CRM, and shipping systems to try and predict future sales.

Which of the following systems is the most appropriate?

Choose the best answer.

- A. OLAP.
- B. OLTP.
- C. Data mart.
- D. Data Warehouse.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Data warehouse bring together data from multiple systems used by an organization.

A data mart is too narrow, as Alex needs data from across multiple divisions.

OLAP is a broad term of analytical processing, and OLTP systems are transactional and not ideal for this task.

NEW QUESTION # 194

An analyst needs to know what data an organization possesses. Which of the following is the best document for the analyst to consult?

- A. Data use document
- B. Data retention policy
- C. Data dictionary
- D. Data destruction policy

Answer: C

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed In-Depth Explanation:

A data dictionary is the best resource for understanding what data an organization possesses. It provides metadata about datasets, including:

- * Field names and definitions
- * Data types (e.g., numeric, text, Boolean)
- * Allowed values and constraints
- * Relationships between different data fields
- * Option A (Data destruction policy): Incorrect. This document outlines procedures for securely deleting data but does not describe the data the organization currently possesses.
- * Option B (Data use document): Incorrect. This document explains how data should be used but does not provide a comprehensive inventory of available data.
- * Option C (Data dictionary): Correct. The data dictionary is a structured reference that describes all available data assets within an organization.
- * Option D (Data retention policy): Incorrect. This policy dictates how long data is stored but does not provide details about what data exists.
