Network Appliance NetApp Storage Installation Engineer, ONTAP Professional Exam Sample Questions (Q110-Q115):

NEW QUESTION # 110

You are installing a new AFF All SAN Array A700 HA pair.

Referring to the exhibit, which IP address would have been used to join node 02 to the cluster during setup?

- A. 192.168.0.112
- B. 169.254.145.151
- C. 169.254.212.198
- D. 192.168.0.101

Answer: C

Explanation:

During cluster setup, nodes use cluster interconnect LIFs, which are automatically assigned link-local IP addresses in the 169.254.x.x range. Management IP addresses (192.168.x.x) are not used for node join operations.

The address 169.254.212.198 corresponds to node02's cluster LIF and would therefore be used to join the cluster.

NEW QUESTION # 111

You completed a 2-node AFF A700 installation according to the poster. You run the disk show -fields owner command and notice that all drives are assigned to node 1.

In this scenario, which tool would you use to access documentation and guidelines to solve the issue?

- A. Active IQ One Collect
- B. Active IQ Unified Manager
- C. NET2
- D. NetAppDocs

Answer: D

Explanation:

NetAppDocs provides official installation documentation, posters, and step-by-step guidelines. It is the correct resource for resolving disk ownership and installation workflow issues.

NEW QUESTION # 112

You are using Broadcom BES-53248 switches for a cluster interconnect in a base configuration.

In this scenario, what is the minimum number of ISLs supported between the switches?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: A

Explanation:

Cluster interconnect switches must be connected to each other with Inter-Switch Links (ISLs) to maintain resilient cluster networking and to ensure that cluster LIFs on different switches can communicate properly. In the Broadcom BES-53248 cluster switch documentation, the base configuration explicitly reserves switch ports 55-56 as "100GbE cluster Inter-Switch Link (ISL) ports, base configuration." The fact that two specific ports are designated as ISL ports in the base configuration strongly indicates that the expected minimum ISL design is two ISLs—one per port—between the switch pair. This matches standard NetApp validated cluster switch designs, where redundant ISLs provide resilience against a single ISL failure and help maintain cluster connectivity under maintenance or partial link faults. In installation practice, this is part of "robust and operational" cluster design: redundant paths are preferred/required to avoid single points of failure in the cluster network fabric.

Option A (1 ISL) would create a single point of failure: if that ISL fails, inter-switch cluster connectivity can be compromised.

Options C and D are not the "minimum" in the base configuration context; while some architectures may support multiple ISLs for additional bandwidth, the base configuration callout clearly highlights two dedicated ISL ports.

Therefore, in a base configuration for BES-53248 cluster interconnect switches, the minimum number of supported ISLs between the two switches is 2.

NEW QUESTION # 113

You are assigned to install two DS2246 shelves, three DS4243 shelves, and one DS4486 shelf.
How many rack units (U space) should you account for in this rack layout?

- A. 20U
- B. 6U
- C. 22U
- D. 10U

Answer: A

Explanation:

NetApp rack unit (U) sizing is defined per shelf model:

* DS2246 = 2U each # 2 × 2U = 4U

* DS4243 = 4U each # 3 × 4U = 12U

* DS4486 = 4U # 4U

Total: 4U + 12U + 4U = 20U

Therefore, the correct answer is 20U.

NEW QUESTION # 114

You are preparing to install a new clustered Data ONTAP system.

Which tool prepares all the relevant customer and configuration information?

- A. Cluster Config Builder
- B. OnCommand System Manager
- C. Config Advisor
- D. AutoSupport

Answer: A
