問題 #83

In SAP HANA Cloud, who has access to a database object?

- A. The user SYSTEM and the creator
- B. The creator and the schema owner
- C. The user DBADMIN and the group owner
- D. The owner and the SAP-owned users

答案: B

解題說明:

In SAP HANA Cloud, access to a database object is granted to the creator and the schema owner. The creator, typically the user who created the object (e.g., a table or view), is automatically granted full privileges on that object, allowing them to manage and manipulate it. The schema owner, who owns the schema in which the object resides, also has access, as they have overarching control over all objects within their schema. This dual ownership model ensures that both the user responsible for creating the object and the schema's administrator can manage it, supporting flexible and secure database administration. The user DBADMIN, group owner, SAP-owned users, or SYSTEM user may have specific administrative privileges, but they are not automatically granted access to all database objects unless explicitly configured. This approach aligns with SAP HANA Cloud's security framework, ensuring that object access is tightly controlled and aligned with the principles of least privilege and ownership-based access management.

問題 #84

In the administration console of the Cloud Identity Services, which authentication providers are available?

Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Successfactors
- B. Concur
- C. Ariba
- D. Fieldglass

答案: A,C

解題說明:

The administration console of SAP Cloud Identity Services supports integration with specific authentication providers to enable secure user authentication. SAP SuccessFactors and SAP Ariba are available as authentication providers, allowing seamless single sign-on (SSO) and identity management for users accessing these SAP solutions. These providers are integrated to leverage their identity data for authentication within the SAP ecosystem, enhancing security and user experience. In contrast, SAP Concur and SAP Fieldglass are not supported as authentication providers in the Cloud Identity Services administration console, as they primarily focus on expense management and workforce management, respectively, and do not serve as identity providers in this context.

問題 #86

Which privilege types are available in SAP HANA Cloud? Note: There are 3 correct answers to this question.

- A. Package
- B. Object
- C. System
- D. Analytic
- E. Application

答案: B,C,D

解題說明:

SAP HANA Cloud supports three main privilege types: System, Analytic, and Object. System privileges grant administrative permissions, such as managing users, schemas, or system configurations, and are typically assigned to administrators. Analytic privileges control access to analytical data, such as calculations or data models, allowing fine-grained restrictions on data views based on user roles, which is crucial for business intelligence scenarios. Object privileges provide access to specific database objects, like tables, views, or procedures, enabling users to perform actions such as SELECT or EXECUTE on these objects. These privilege types ensure comprehensive access control in SAP HANA Cloud. Package privileges are relevant in SAP HANA on-premise but not in the cloud version, and Application privileges are not a standard category in SAP HANA Cloud's security model. By leveraging System, Analytic, and Object privileges, SAP HANA Cloud ensures secure and flexible data access management, supporting diverse use cases from administration to analytics.
