EPIC CEE: Bridges Interfaces Application Essentials Exam (2026 Version) Sample Questions (Q42-Q47):

NEW QUESTION # 42

If interface specification ABC has 45 days listed as its purge days, and Data Exchange System Definitions has 60 days listed for purge days, how many days will messages on interface ABC last?

- A. 60 Days
- B. 30 Days
- C. It depends on whether the message has active errors
- D. 45 Days

Answer: D

Explanation:

Similar to profile variables, purge settings follow a hierarchy where the more specific configuration overrides the more general one. Because the Interface Specification is more specific than the System Definitions, its value of 45 days takes precedence. Messages for interfaces using that specification will be eligible for purging after 45 days.

NEW QUESTION # 43

Consider a new Epic master file ZAI, which holds records representing the intelligent robots working in a futuristic hospital. Each ZAI record has an item defining the type of robot. While the ZAI master file typically has thousands of robot records, there are only a dozen robot types. Which mapping method would be used to send ZAI record-level identifiers?

- A. Identity
- B. Translation Tables
- C. Message Structure Override
- D. HL7 Processing ID

Answer: A

Explanation:

Even in a fictional scenario, the rule remains: if you are mapping record-level identifiers (the unique ID for each individual robot record), you must use Identity. Translation Tables would only be appropriate for the "robot types" (since there are only a dozen), but for the thousands of individual robot records themselves, Identity provides the necessary cross-referencing between Epic and external systems.

NEW QUESTION # 44

When triaging an error, what are the error buckets you might place an error in? (SELECT ALL THAT APPLY)

- A. Purge
- B. Fix
- C. Suppress
- D. Ignore
- E. Work

Answer: B,D,E

Explanation:

When using the Error Resolution Planner or triaging logs, analysts categorize errors into three main "buckets" to define the workflow: Fix (the data or configuration needs to be corrected), Ignore (the error is expected or harmless and requires no action), and Work (the error requires further investigation or manual intervention). While "Suppress" is a configuration action and "Purge" is a maintenance task, they are not considered the standard triage buckets for active error management.

NEW QUESTION # 45

When applying a filter on a related record in the message companion, you notice that a message for a particular patient is not showing up in your results. Which of the following could be a reason for this behavior?

- A. You must specify " contains " instead of " equals " in your message search criteria.
- B. The message was retriggered from another message.
- C. The patient is not linked to the message due to a failure error in message processing.
- D. The message companion only works for outgoing messages.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Message Companion relies on a successful link between a message and a specific record (like a Patient or Encounter). If a message encounters a failure error during processing (e.g., a critical identification error), Bridges may be unable to definitively link that message to the patient record in Chronicles. Because the link is missing, the message will not appear in tools like the Message Companion that filter specifically by that patient ' s ID.

NEW QUESTION # 46

In a general table, what must be unique?

- A. Primary Key
- B. Data Columns
- C. Table Name
- D. None of these

Answer: A

Explanation:

Just like a standard database table, a General Table in Bridges relies on a Primary Key to uniquely identify each row of data. While multiple rows might share similar values in their data columns (Option D), the Primary Key itself must be unique to ensure the system can precisely retrieve the correct data during a lookup.
