Pegasystems Certified Pega System Architect 24 Sample Questions (Q254-Q259):

NEW QUESTION # 254
Which Pega feature helps track and prioritize application development tasks?

- A. Agile Workbench
- B. Case Status Rules
- C. Work Queue Processing
- D. SLA Goal Management

Answer: A

Explanation:
Agile Workbench enables teams to capture user stories, log bugs, and track development progress. It provides real-time status updates and collaboration between developers and business users. SLA goals, case status, and work queues are not related to Agile development tracking.

NEW QUESTION # 255
Which setting allows an SLA to increase urgency over time?

- A. Reassignment trigger
- B. Escalation action
- C. Goal threshold
- D. Increment urgency

Answer: D

Explanation:
The Increment Urgency setting allows Pega to gradually increase urgency as an assignment remains unresolved. This ensures high-priority work is addressed promptly. Combined with escalation actions, it prevents delays in task completion. It is useful for time-sensitive workflows requiring prompt resolution.

NEW QUESTION # 256
Which layout is best for displaying a list of items in a flexible, card-based format?

- A. Repeating Dynamic Layout
- B. Grid Layout
- C. SLA Recalculation Table
- D. Work Queue Prioritization

Answer: A

Explanation:
A Repeating Dynamic Layout is ideal for displaying lists in a flexible, responsive card format. It allows better styling and mobile-friendly presentation compared to grid layouts. SLA tables and work queue prioritization do not manage UI layouts.

NEW QUESTION # 257
Which feature allows managers to approve or reject work items directly from an email?

- A. Email Listener

- B. Mobile Approval Portal
- C. Email Approval Link
- D. Work Queue Notification

Answer: C

Explanation:
Email Approval Links allow managers to approve or reject assignments directly from an email notification. This feature speeds up approval processes by reducing login dependency. It is beneficial for mobile workers or executives managing approvals remotely. Email approvals enhance efficiency in time- sensitive workflows.

NEW QUESTION # 258
Which of the following is not a primary SLA element?

- A. Goal
- B. Routing condition
- C. Passed Deadline
- D. Urgency

Answer: B

Explanation:
SLAs consist of goal, deadline, passed deadline, and urgency settings to track and manage task completion. Routing conditions, though important for case assignment, are separate from SLAs. SLA components ensure efficient workload prioritization. They influence escalation but not direct task routing.
