Salesforce Certified Platform Strategy Designer Sample Questions (Q115-Q120):

NEW QUESTION # 115
A global retailer has received customer complaints because items that are advertised sell out too quickly. There is a disconnect between marketing and fulfilment teams and their systems.
Which tool should the strategy designer use to identify the root causes, dependencies, and opportunities for improvement?

- A. Journey map
- B. Stakeholder interviews
- C. Service blueprint

Answer: B

Explanation:
The best tool to identify the root causes, dependencies, and opportunities for improvement in a situation where items that are advertised sell out too quickly is stakeholder interviews, as this helps gather insights and feedback from different perspectives and roles involved in the marketing and fulfillment processes. A service blueprint or a journey map may not be able to diagnose the problem without first understanding the stakeholder needs and expectations.

NEW QUESTION # 116
A strategy designer is facilitating a critique on a concept for their company's new loyalty program, and they're getting a lot of subjective feedback representing personal opinions.
What is the most common reason for this, assuming good intent from all participants?

- A. The non-designers do not have the skills needed to give effective critique on design work.
- B. The critique does not have the right participants in the room; there are too many dominant personalities.
- C. The designer has not properly defined the guidelines for the critique session.

Answer: C

Explanation:
Subjective feedback often occurs when the parameters of a critique are not clearly established. Providing clear guidelines helps participants understand the context, objectives, and specific areas where feedback is needed, focusing the discussion on constructive and objective observations rather than personal preferences.
