Psychiatric Rehabilitation Association Certified Psychiatric Rehabilitation Practitioner Sample Questions (Q31-Q36):

NEW QUESTION # 31

Which of the following is an indicator of higher levels of recovery for individuals?

- A. Meaningful experiences
- B. Education levels
- C. Cultural background
- D. Socioeconomic status

Answer: A

Explanation:

Recovery in psychiatric rehabilitation is defined by personal growth, fulfillment, and engagement in valued roles, not just symptom reduction. The CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain V: Strategies for Facilitating Recovery) identifies meaningful experiences-such as achieving personal goals, forming relationships, or participating in community activities-as key indicators of higher recovery levels (Task V.A.1: "Promote recovery principles, including self-determination and satisfaction"). Option C (meaningful experiences) aligns with this, as recovery is reflected in experiences that foster purpose, hope, and connection, which are central to recovery-oriented outcomes.

Option A (education levels) may support recovery but is not a direct indicator. Option B (cultural background) influences experiences but is not an outcome measure. Option D (socioeconomic status) is a contextual factor, not a recovery indicator. The PRA Study Guide emphasizes meaningful experiences as a hallmark of recovery, supporting Option C.

NEW QUESTION # 32

The true mission of psychiatric rehabilitation is to improve functioning and

- A. increase insight.
- B. decrease stigma.
- C. increase satisfaction.
- D. decrease symptoms.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Psychiatric rehabilitation focuses on enhancing an individual's ability to live, work, and engage in the community while achieving personal fulfillment. The CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain V: Strategies for Facilitating Recovery) defines the mission as improving functioning (e.g., skills for daily living, employment) and increasing satisfaction with life roles and environments (Task V.A.1: "Promote recovery principles, including self-determination and satisfaction"). Option A (increase satisfaction) aligns with this, as psychiatric rehabilitation prioritizes person-centered outcomes, such as achieving goals that enhance quality of life and personal fulfillment, alongside functional improvements.

Option B (decrease symptoms) is a clinical goal, not the primary focus of rehabilitation, which emphasizes functioning over symptom reduction. Option C (increase insight) is not a core rehabilitation outcome, as insight is secondary to practical and personal goals. Option D (decrease stigma) is a broader advocacy goal (Domain VI) but not the mission's core focus. The PRA Study Guide defines psychiatric rehabilitation as improving functioning and life satisfaction, supporting Option A.

NEW QUESTION # 33

Rehabilitation readiness refers to an individual's

- A. specific skill set.
- B. ability to reach a goal.
- C. functional capacity.
- D. desire to set a goal.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Rehabilitation readiness assesses an individual's preparedness to engage in the process of setting and pursuing recovery-oriented goals. The CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain IV: Assessment, Planning, and Outcomes) defines readiness as the individual's desire and motivation to set goals, reflecting their hope, confidence, and commitment to change (Task IV.A.2: "Assess individual's stage of change and readiness for goal-setting").

Option A (desire to set a goal) aligns with this, as readiness focuses on the individual's willingness to identify and work toward specific objectives, such as employment or education, often evaluated through tools like the Stages of Change model.

Option B (specific skill set) relates to functional assessment, not readiness. Option C (ability to reach a goal) focuses on outcomes, not the initial motivation. Option D (functional capacity) assesses skills and deficits, not motivational readiness. The PRA Study Guide emphasizes desire as the core of rehabilitation readiness, supporting Option A.

NEW QUESTION # 34

An individual is frequently hospitalized in a locked unit after expressing suicidal thoughts to staff in her residential facility. As a result, she runs away when becoming symptomatic. This is an example of

- A. the breakdown of the therapeutic relationship.
- B. the effects of learned helplessness.
- C. avoiding re-traumatization.
- D. attention-seeking behavior.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The individual's pattern of running away when symptomatic, following repeated hospitalizations in a locked unit, suggests a response to potentially traumatic experiences. The CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain I: Interpersonal Competencies) emphasizes trauma-informed care, which recognizes that institutional settings like locked units can re-traumatize individuals, prompting avoidance behaviors (Task I.A.4: "Apply trauma-informed principles in service delivery"). Option A (avoiding re-traumatization) aligns with this, as the individual's running away likely reflects an attempt to avoid the distress and loss of autonomy associated with involuntary hospitalizations, which can feel re-traumatizing, especially for someone with a history of mental health challenges.

Option B (breakdown of the therapeutic relationship) is possible but not directly supported, as the scenario focuses on hospitalization, not staff interactions. Option C (attention-seeking behavior) is a stigmatizing assumption that contradicts recovery-oriented care. Option D (learned helplessness) implies passivity, not the proactive avoidance behavior described. The PRA Study Guide highlights avoidance as a trauma-informed response to re-traumatizing settings, supporting Option A.

NEW QUESTION # 35

Literature suggests that bolstering the social support network of people who have been diagnosed with schizophrenia can MOST importantly improve their

- A. ability to work.
- B. sense of well-being.
- C. social skills.
- D. symptomatology.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Social support networks are critical for enhancing wellness among individuals with schizophrenia, as they provide emotional, practical, and social resources that foster recovery. The CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain VII: Supporting Health & Wellness) emphasizes the role of social connections in promoting overall well-being (Task VII.B.1: "Support the development of social and interpersonal skills to enhance wellness").

Option C (sense of well-being) aligns with this, as literature consistently shows that strong social support networks improve emotional and psychological well-being by reducing isolation, enhancing self-esteem, and providing a sense of belonging, which are particularly vital for individuals with schizophrenia.

Option A (social skills) may improve indirectly through social engagement, but it is not the primary outcome, as skills are a means to well-being, not the end goal. Option B (ability to work) is a secondary benefit, as employment depends on multiple factors beyond social support (Domain III). Option D (symptomatology) may see some improvement, but well-being is a broader, more direct outcome of social support, as symptom reduction is not guaranteed by social networks alone. The PRA Study Guide, referencing recovery-oriented research, highlights social support as a key driver of well-being, supporting Option C.
