- A. Capacity on demand
- B. Deduplication
- C. Software-defined storage
- D. Compression

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 397

A cloud systems administrator needs to migrate several corporate applications to a public cloud provider and decommission the internal hosting environment. This migration must be completed by the end of the month.

Because these applications are internally developed to meet specific business accounting needs, the administrator cannot use an alternative application.

Which of the following BEST describes the approach the administrator should use?

- A. Hybrid deployment
- B. Rip and replace
- C. Lift and shift
- D. Phased migration

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 398

The legal team is required to share legal proceedings with an outside council. The team uses SaaS fileshares. Which of the following policies will BEST state the requirements for sharing information with external parties?

- A. Communication policy
- B. Resource management policy
- C. Identity control policy
- D. Information security policy

Answer: D

Explanation:

An information security policy is a document that defines the rules and guidelines for protecting the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of data and systems in an organization. It covers topics such as data classification, access control, encryption, backup, incident response, and compliance. An information security policy is essential for ensuring that data is shared securely with external parties, especially when using SaaS fileshares that may have different security standards and features than the organization's own systems. A communication policy, a resource management policy, and an identity control policy are all related to information security, but they are not as comprehensive and specific as an information security policy.
