NEW QUESTION # 39

For a client with a global presence and teams operating across various time zones, what is a key consideration for Slack grid design as per the discovery outputs?

- A. Designing the grid with an emphasis on asynchronous communication tools only
- B. Developing a centralized grid with region-specific channels, alongside general channels for company-wide communication
- C. Creating a separate Slack workspace for each time zone to avoid overlap
- D. Limiting the number of channels to avoid confusion among team members in different time zones

Answer: B

Explanation:

For a client with a global presence, a centralized grid with region-specific channels allows for localized communication while maintaining a unified platform for the entire organization. This design accommodates time zone differences effectively while also providing channels for broader, company-wide communication.

NEW QUESTION # 40

For a client in the financial services sector with stringent regulatory compliance requirements, what initial grid design recommendation should be made based on discovery findings?

- A. Proposing a grid with a heavy reliance on public channels to enhance transparency within the organization
- B. Recommending a grid that segregates departments into isolated channels with no cross- departmental communication
- C. Designing the grid with a focus on channels that facilitate secure, compliant communication and information sharing
- D. Encouraging the use of direct messages for all sensitive communications to avoid creating too many channels

Answer: B

Explanation:

For a client in the financial services sector, it's important to prioritize regulatory compliance in the grid design. A recommendation to segregate departments into isolated channels without cross- departmental communication can be necessary to meet stringent compliance requirements. This approach ensures that sensitive information is contained within specific departments, reducing the risk of non-compliant information sharing.

- B. The client's IT team alone, as they are responsible for internal security policies
- C. An external security consultant not associated with Slack or the Partner
- D. The Partner's consultant, with oversight from the client's IT team to ensure compliance with security policies

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Partner's consultant, who has expertise in Slack implementations, should take the lead in configuring the workspace settings.
