CompTIA Tech+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q79-Q84):

NEW QUESTION # 79

An employee attempts to install software on a PC. A prompt to enter a username and password appears on-screen. The employee then receives an "access denied" message and cannot install the software. Which of the following types of access would allow the employee to accomplish this task?

- A. Administrator
- B. Least privilege
- C. User
- D. Single factor

Answer: A

Explanation:

Installing software typically requires elevated permissions that standard user accounts do not have. The CompTIA ITF+ FC0-U71 Official Study Guide explains:

"An administrator account provides full system access, including installing or removing software, changing system settings, and managing user accounts." The user account does not have these privileges by default.

Least privilege refers to granting only the minimum permissions necessary (which would not typically include software installation for regular users).

Single factor refers to authentication methods, not access levels.

Since the employee is denied installation due to insufficient privileges, administrator access is needed to complete the installation.

NEW QUESTION # 80

Which of the following is commonly used to measure the RAM capacity of a smartphone?

- A. GB
- B. TB
- C. KB
- D. MB

Answer: A

Explanation:

Gigabytes (GB) are the standard unit for measuring RAM capacity in modern smartphones, typically ranging from 2GB to 16GB.

KB and MB are too small, TB is used for large storage, not RAM.

NEW QUESTION # 81

A user receives a notification about a new software vulnerability. Which of the following is the best way to secure the software?

- A. Enabling authentication
- B. Configuring a firewall
- C. Applying updates
- D. Uninstalling the program

Answer: C

Explanation:

When a new vulnerability is discovered in software, the best way to secure it is by applying updates (patches) released by the software vendor. According to the CompTIA ITF+ objectives:

"Vendors regularly release software updates and security patches to fix vulnerabilities that could be exploited by attackers. Installing these patches promptly is crucial for maintaining system security." Although configuring a firewall and authentication improves overall security, they do not directly patch or fix the vulnerability. Uninstalling may be an option only if a patch is unavailable or the software is no longer needed. Therefore, the best and most proactive response is B: Apply updates.

NEW QUESTION # 82

Which of the following units of measurement is used when describing a gaming monitor?

- A. TB

- B. RAM
- C. MHz
