ABPMP International Certified Business Process Associate (CBPA) Exam Sample Questions (Q110-Q115):

NEW QUESTION # 110

What is the purpose of implementing Business Process Management (BPM)?

- A. BPM is a proven management discipline for strategically aligning processes to formally execute operational plans that create value for customers.
- B. Market pressure and competition accelerate the need to reassess the organization's business model.
- C. BPM matters to businesses that transform themselves into a process-oriented culture to improve performance.
- D. Change is constant and business processes must change to improve customer service.

Answer: A

Explanation:

BPM is not merely a response to market pressure-it is a disciplined approach that integrates strategy with operations through effective process design, execution, and management.

"BPM is a disciplined approach to identify, design, execute, monitor, and optimize business processes. It is used to align processes with strategic goals and ensure operational efficiency."

NEW QUESTION # 111

What is important when creating a new process?

- A. Impose constraints thinking

- B. Role-play in the team to test use cases
- C. Make job descriptions, work location, and task assignments flexible
- D. Use design thinking and agile techniques

Answer: D

Explanation:

In modern BPM practices, Design Thinking and Agile methodologies are increasingly applied to process design. They encourage user-centered, iterative, and innovative approaches to designing processes that are more adaptable and responsive.

"Applying Design Thinking to process design ensures that customer needs are addressed from the start. Agile principles allow for iterative testing, feedback, and refinement."

- ABPMP CBOK, Chapter 5 - Process Design

Benefits include:

- * Faster feedback loops
- * Continuous improvement from real-world usage
- * Higher customer and employee satisfaction

NEW QUESTION # 112

Which initial information gathering method is NOT usually used in process analysis?

- A. Observation of how the processes run
- B. Process simulation
- C. Interviews with participants in a process
- D. Process auditing

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 113

Which is one of the MOST frequent fears of operational managers in Business Process Management (BPM) projects?

- A. Loss of power and control
- B. Threat of layoffs
- C. Decrease of salaries
- D. Implementation of new technologies

Answer: A

Explanation:

One of the most cited concerns among operational managers during BPM initiatives is losing authority or control over their traditional domains, especially when processes become cross-functional or are governed by process owners.

"Managers may resist BPM due to the perceived threat of losing decision-making authority or control over operations as processes are realigned and cross-functional governance structures introduced."

- ABPMP CBOK, Chapter 9 - Process Organization

Mitigation includes:

- * Clear communication of roles
- * Engagement in design
- * Reframing control as collaborative governance

NEW QUESTION # 114

Which are proven approaches to measure process performance?

- A. Activity-based costing and value stream analysis
- B. Lean and Six Sigma
- C. Benchmarking and multi-moment monitoring
- D. Process monitoring and multi-moment monitoring

Answer: C

Explanation:

Benchmarking and multi-moment analysis are reliable, proven methods:

- * Benchmarking compares internal process performance with industry standards or best practices.
- * Multi-moment analysis samples work activities over time to identify patterns and improvement areas.

"Benchmarking allows comparison against best-in-class processes, while multi-moment analysis captures time allocation across activities to detect inefficiencies."

- ABPMP CBOK, Chapter 6 - Process Performance Management

These approaches enable:

- * Data-driven decision-making
- * Identification of waste and delays
- * Insight into competitive performance
