Amazon AWS Certified AI Practitioner Sample Questions (Q92-Q97):

NEW QUESTION # 92

HOTSPOT

Select the correct AI term from the following list for each statement. Each AI term should be selected one time. (Select THREE.)

- * AI
- * Deep learning
- * ML

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

Artificial Intelligence (AI) is the broad field focused on simulating human problem-solving and cognitive abilities, including reasoning, perception, and decision-making.

(Reference: AWS Certified AI Practitioner Official Study Guide)

Machine Learning (ML) is a subset of AI that uses data-driven algorithms to identify patterns and make predictions without explicit programming for each specific task.

(Reference: AWS Machine Learning Overview)

Deep learning is a subset of ML that uses neural networks with many layers (deep neural networks) to process complex data and extract high-level features.

(Reference: AWS Deep Learning on AWS)

NEW QUESTION # 93

Which term describes the numerical representations of real-world objects and concepts that AI and natural language processing (NLP) models use to improve understanding of textual information?

- A. Models
- B. Embeddings
- C. Tokens
- D. Binaries

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 94

A company wants to develop ML applications to improve business operations and efficiency.

NEW QUESTION # 95

A hospital is developing an AI system to assist doctors in diagnosing diseases based on patient records and medical images. To comply with regulations, the sensitive patient data must not leave the country the data is located in.

Which data governance strategy will ensure compliance and protect patient privacy?

- A. Data quality
- B. Data residency
- C. Data enrichment
- D. Data discoverability

Answer: B

Explanation:

Data residency is the principle and practice of ensuring that data remains within a specific geographic location or jurisdiction, often to comply with local regulations and privacy laws (such as HIPAA, GDPR, or national healthcare laws). Data residency policies prevent sensitive data (such as patient records) from being transferred or accessed outside the designated country, thus protecting privacy and ensuring regulatory compliance.

A is correct:

"Data residency refers to where data is stored geographically, and often organizations need to ensure that certain data does not leave

a particular country or region to comply with legal or regulatory requirements." (Reference: AWS Data Residency Whitepaper, AWS Responsible AI & Data Privacy)

"Data residency refers to where data is stored geographically, and often organizations need to ensure that certain data does not leave a particular country or region to comply with legal or regulatory requirements." (Reference: AWS Data Residency Whitepaper, AWS Responsible AI & Data Privacy) B (data quality) refers to the accuracy and reliability of data, not its location.

C (data discoverability) is about being able to find and access data, not restricting its movement.

D (data enrichment) is about enhancing data with additional information.

"Maintaining data residency is critical in healthcare and regulated industries to ensure data does not leave the prescribed jurisdiction." (Reference: AWS Data Residency)

NEW QUESTION # 96

A company wants to keep its foundation model (FM) relevant by using the most recent data. The company wants to implement a model training strategy that includes regular updates to the FM.

Which solution meets these requirements?

- A. Latent training
- B. Continuous pre-training
- C. Static training
- D. Batch learning

Answer: B

Explanation:

To keep a foundation model (FM) relevant with the most recent data, the company needs a training strategy that supports regular updates. Continuous pre-training involves periodically updating a pre-trained model with new data to improve its performance and relevance over time, making it the best fit for this requirement.

Exact Extract from AWS AI Documents:

From the AWS AI Practitioner Learning Path:

"Continuous pre-training is a strategy where a pre-trained model is periodically updated with new data to keep it relevant and improve its performance. This approach is commonly used for foundation models to ensure they adapt to new trends and information." (Source: AWS AI Practitioner Learning Path, Module on Model Training Strategies) Detailed Explanation:

- * Option A: Batch learningBatch learning involves training a model on a fixed dataset in batches, but it does not inherently support regular updates with new data to keep the model relevant over time.
- * Option B: Continuous pre-trainingThis is the correct answer. Continuous pre-training updates the FM with recent data, ensuring it stays relevant by adapting to new trends and information.
- * Option C: Static trainingStatic training implies training a model once on a fixed dataset without updates, which does not meet the requirement for regular updates.
- * Option D: Latent trainingLatent training is not a standard term in AWS or ML contexts. It may refer to latent space in models like VAEs, but it is not a strategy for regular model updates.
