Confluent Certified Developer for Apache Kafka Certification Examination Sample Questions (Q41-Q46):

NEW QUESTION # 41

What will happen if a producer tries to send messages to a topic that does not exist in the Kafka cluster?

- A. The Producer "send()" call will block indefinitely.
- B. Messages will only be sent if auto topic creation is enabled.
- C. The messages will be sent to a topic called unnamed_topic_1.
- D. The brokers will hold the messages until a user creates a topic for the messages.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 42

Select all the way for one consumer to subscribe simultaneously to the following topics - topic.history, topic.sports, topic.politics? (select two)

- A. `consumer.subscribe(Arrays.asList("topic.history", "topic.sports", "topic.politics"));`
- B. `consumer.subscribePrefix("topic.");`
- C. `consumer.subscribe(Pattern.compile("topic\\.*"));`
- D. `consumer.subscribe("topic.history"); consumer.subscribe("topic.sports"); consumer.subscribe("topic.politics");`

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

Multiple topics can be passed as a list or regex pattern.

NEW QUESTION # 43

The producer code below features a Callback class with a method called `onCompletion()`. When will the `onCompletion()` method be invoked?

- A. When a consumer sends an acknowledgement to the producer
- B. When the producer receives the acknowledgment from the broker
- C. When the producer batches the message
- D. When the producer puts the message into its socket buffer

Answer: B

Explanation:

The `onCompletion()` method of Kafka's `Callback` interface is executed once the broker acknowledges the message. This includes success or failure, and it is invoked asynchronously by the producer.

From Kafka Java Client API Documentation:

"The `onCompletion` method will be called when the record sent to the server has been acknowledged, or when an error occurs." This ensures that the record was sent and acknowledged, not just added to a batch or local buffer.

Reference: Kafka Java Client API > `org.apache.kafka.clients.producer.Callback`

NEW QUESTION # 44

A producer is configured with the default partitioner. It is sending records to a topic that is configured with five partitions. The record does not contain any key.

What is the result of this?

- A. Records will be sent to the least used partition.
- B. Records will be dispatched among the available partitions.
- C. An error will be raised and no record will be sent.
- D. Records will be sent to partition 0.

Answer: B

Explanation:

If a key is not specified, the default Kafka partitioner uses round-robin logic to assign partitions. This leads to even distribution of messages across all partitions.

From Kafka Producer Design:

"If the key is null, the producer will assign the partition in a round-robin fashion to achieve load balancing." There is no error, and partition 0 is not always chosen in this case.

NEW QUESTION # 45

Which configuration allows more time for the consumer poll to process records?

- A. `fetch.max.wait.ms`
- B. `max.poll.interval.ms`

- C. heartbeat.interval.ms
- D. session.timeout.ms

Answer: B

Explanation:

max.poll.interval.ms defines the maximum delay between invocations of poll() before the consumer is considered failed. It essentially gives consumers more time to process records before needing to poll again.

From Kafka Consumer Configuration Reference:

"max.poll.interval.ms: The maximum delay between invocations of poll() when using consumer group management. If poll() is not called before expiration, the consumer is considered failed."

* session.timeout.ms and heartbeat.interval.ms relate to group coordination and heartbeats.

* fetch.max.wait.ms affects how long the broker waits to accumulate data before sending a fetch response.
