- B. Authentication within application
- C. Safeguards over keys
- D. Strength of encryption algorithms

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

If keys are in the wrong hands, documents will be able to be read regardless of where they are on the network.

Choice A is incorrect because firewalls can be perfectly configured, but if the keys make it to the other side, they will not prevent the document from being decrypted. Choice B is incorrect because even easy encryption algorithms require adequate resources to break, whereas encryption keys can be easily used. Choice C is incorrect because the application "front door" controls may be bypassed by accessing data directly.

Explanation:

Reported incidents will provide an indicator of the awareness level of staff. An increase in reported incidents could indicate that the staff is paying more attention to security. Password resets and access rule violations may or may not have anything to do with awareness levels. The number of incidents resolved may not correlate to staff awareness.

NEW QUESTION # 271

Which of the following is MOST likely to affect an organization's ability to respond to security incidents in a timely manner?

- A. Complexity of network segmentation
- B. Inadequate detective control performance
- C. Misconfiguration of security information and event management (SIEM) tool
- D. Lack of senior management buy-in

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 272

Which of the following is the GREATEST value provided by a security information and event management (SIEM) system?

- A. Redirecting event logs to an alternate location for business continuity plan
- B. Facilitating the monitoring of risk occurrences
- C. Maintaining a repository base of security policies
- D. Measuring impact of exploits on business processes

Answer: B

A security information and event management (SIEM) system is a tool that collects, analyzes, and correlates security events from various sources, such as firewalls, intrusion detection systems, antivirus software, and other devices. A SIEM system can provide real-time alerts, dashboards, reports, and forensic analysis of security incidents. The greatest value of a SIEM system is that it can facilitate the monitoring of risk occurrences by identifying anomalies, trends, patterns, and indicators of compromise that may otherwise go unnoticed. A SIEM system can also help with incident response, compliance, and audit activities by providing evidence and documentation of security events.

greatest value provided by a Security Information and Event Management (SIEM) system is facilitating the monitoring of risk occurrences. SIEM systems collect, analyze and alert on security-related data from various sources such as firewall logs, intrusion detection/prevention systems, and system logs. This allows organizations to identify security threats in real-time and respond quickly, helping to mitigate potential harm to their systems and data.

NEW QUESTION # 273

Which of the following is the BEST way for an organization to ensure that incident response teams are properly prepared?

- A. Documenting multiple scenarios for the organization and response steps
- B. Obtaining industry certifications for the response team
- C. Conducting tabletop exercises appropriate for the organization
- D. Providing training from third-party forensics firms

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

The BEST way for an organization to ensure that incident response teams are properly prepared is by conducting tabletop exercises appropriate for the organization.

Tabletop exercises are an effective way to test and validate an organization's incident response plan (IRP) and the readiness of the incident response team. These exercises simulate different scenarios in a controlled environment and allow the team to practice their response procedures, identify gaps, and make improvements to the plan. By conducting regular tabletop exercises, the incident response team can stay current with changes in the threat landscape and ensure that they are prepared to respond to incidents effectively.

According to the Certified Information Security Manager (CISM) Study Manual, "Tabletop exercises are a valuable tool for testing and validating the effectiveness of the IRP and the readiness of the incident response team. These exercises simulate different scenarios in a controlled environment and allow the team to practice their response procedures, identify gaps, and make improvements to the plan." While providing training from third-party forensics firms, obtaining industry certifications, and documenting multiple scenarios for the organization and response steps can all be useful in preparing incident response teams, they are not as effective as conducting tabletop exercises appropriate for the organization.
