Universal Containers (UC) provides internet service and recently purchased Industries Order Management (OM) licenses for their B2B use cases. They have the following requirements:

*Product must be grouped during decomposition in order to send products to the billing system based on location

*After grouping the ordered items based on location, send the respective codes to same billing system for each location. Which three steps should a consultant take when designing a solution for these requirements?

- A. Split the order into multiple order and group order items based on the service location
- B. Create a decomposition for each service so that it has its own Fulfillment Request and create a Callout task for each of them
- C. Use the CPQ multisite feature and group the service locations and create orders for each group
- D. After splitting the order create one fulfillment request for each location by creating Orchestration scenarios for each other items

Answer: A,B,D

Explanation:

For UC 's requirement to group products during decomposition based on location and send codes to the billing system, splitting the order into multiple orders based on service location (A), creating a unique decomposition for each service with its own fulfillment request and callout task (B), and creating an orchestration scenario for each grouped order item after splitting the order (D) are recommended steps. This approach ensures that products are grouped and processed according to location, allowing for efficient and accurate billing system integration.
