EXIN Certified Data Centre Professional (CDCP) Sample Questions (Q83-Q88):

NEW QUESTION # 83
The temperature and humidity values indicated on the display of the Computer room air conditioner unit are the values measured at which point?

- A. It is the value measured at the front of the rack of the aisle the air conditioner is situated.
- B. It is the value measured at the exhaust (outlet) of the air conditioner.
- C. It is the value measured at the intake of the air conditioner.
- D. It is the average value between the intake and exhaust (outlet) of the air conditioner.

Answer: C

Explanation:
According to the IBM document on temperature and humidity design criteria1, the temperature and humidity values indicated on the display of the computer room air conditioner unit are the values measured at the intake of the air conditioner. This is because the intake is where the air conditioner draws the air from the computer room and cools and dehumidifies it before sending it back to the computer room. The display shows the current conditions of the computer room air, which are used to adjust the cooling and dehumidifying operations of the air conditioner. The values measured at the exhaust (outlet) of the air conditioner are not displayed, as they are not relevant for the computer room environment. The values measured at the front of the rack of the aisle the air conditioner is situated are also not displayed, as they may vary depending on the distance and location of the rack. The average value between the intake and exhaust (outlet) of the air conditioner is not displayed, as it does not reflect the actual conditions of the computer room air or the air conditioner performance.

NEW QUESTION # 84
New server equipment is arriving at your data centre, where should it be tested?

- A. In the Computer! Server room
- B. In the Staging room
- C. In the Holding area
- D. In the Media storage area

Answer: B

Explanation:
New equipment should be unpacked, tested, and configured in a dedicated staging room before being moved to the live data hall to prevent contamination and disruptions.

NEW QUESTION # 85
Which one of the following is a core objective of a Business Value in an organization?

- A. None of the above
- B. Reducing the Deficit
- C. Reducing Costs
- D. Increasing Sales

Answer: A

Explanation:
According to the EPI Data Centre Professional (CDCP) Reference Materials, a core objective of a Business Value in an organization is to create value for customers and stakeholders1. This means delivering products or services that meet or exceed customer expectations, while also generating profits or benefits for the organization and its shareholders. Reducing costs, reducing the deficit, and increasing sales are possible ways to achieve this objective, but they are not the core objective itself.

NEW QUESTION # 86
Which Class of Fires involves cooking appliances?

- A. Class A
- B. Class C
- C. Class B
- D. Class K

Answer: D

Explanation:
According to the EPI Data Centre Professional (CDCP®) Preparation Guide, Class K fires involve cooking appliances that use combustible cooking media such as vegetable or animal oils and fats (page 28). Class K fires require special extinguishing agents that can suppress the high-temperature flames and prevent re-ignition. Class K fires are different from Class B fires, which involve flammable liquids such as gasoline, oil, or paint.

NEW QUESTION # 87
Starting from which Rating does the requirement of Concurrently Maintainability becomes relevant?

- A. Rated-3
- B. Rated-1
- C. Rated-2
- D. Rated-4

Answer: A

Explanation:
The requirement of Concurrently Maintainability becomes relevant starting from Rated-3, according to the Uptime Institute Tier Classification System1. Concurrently Maintainability means that any component or system in the data centre can be maintained or replaced without affecting the availability of the IT equipment.
This requires having redundant capacity components and multiple independent distribution paths serving the IT equipment. Rated-3 data centres are designed to achieve Concurrently Maintainability and have a minimum uptime of 99.982%. Rated-4 data centres also have Concurrently Maintainability, but they also have Fault Tolerance, which means that they can withstand any single unplanned event without affecting the availability of the IT equipment. Rated-4 data centres have a minimum uptime of 99.995%. Rated-1 and Rated-2 data centres do not have Concurrently Maintainability, as they have only one distribution path serving the IT equipment and no redundant capacity components. Rated-1 data centres have a minimum uptime of 99.671% and Rated-2 data centres have a minimum uptime of 99.741%.
