- B. A list of last endpoints that a user logged in to
- C. A list of unique users who are remotely logged on to devices based on the country
- D. A list of all logons for all users

Answer: B

Explanation:

NEW QUESTION # 13

How many "Auto" sensor version update options are available for Windows Sensor Update Policies?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: D

Explanation:

There are three "Auto" sensor version update options available for Windows Sensor Update Policies:

Auto - N-1, Auto - TEST-QA and Auto - Latest. These options allow the administrator to automatically update the sensor version to the previous stable version, the latest test version or the latest stable version, respectively.

NEW QUESTION # 14

What is the purpose of using groups with Sensor Update policies in CrowdStrike Falcon?

- A. To prioritize the order in which Falcon updates are installed, so that updates are not installed all at once leading to network congestion
- B. To group hosts with others in the same business unit
- C. To allow the controlled assignment of sensor versions onto specific hosts
- D. To group hosts according to the order in which Falcon was installed, so that updates are installed in the same order every time

Answer: C

Explanation:

The purpose of using groups with Sensor Update policies in CrowdStrike Falcon is to allow the controlled assignment of sensor versions onto specific hosts. This allows users to manage the sensor updates for different hosts based on their needs and preferences, such as testing, staging or production. The other options are either incorrect or not related to using groups with Sensor Update policies.

NEW QUESTION # 15

What default user role can manage API credentials?

- A. Endpoint Manager
- B. Falcon Administrator
- C. Falcon Security Lead
- D. Falcon API Manager

Answer: B

Explanation:

The default user role that can manage API credentials is Falcon Administrator . Falcon's role-permission matrix shows "Manage API credentials" enabled for Falcon Administrator and not enabled for the other listed roles. Falcon Administrator is the broad administrative role that can access nearly all console functionality, with the notable exception that Real Time Response still requires dedicated RTR roles. Managing API credentials is a high-risk administrative function because API clients and secrets can be used by integrations, scripts, and external systems to access Falcon APIs according to assigned scopes. Therefore, Falcon restricts this capability to administrative authority rather than operational roles such as Falcon Security Lead or Endpoint Manager. Falcon Security Lead can manage detections, quarantined files, containment, event searches, and credential resets, but it cannot manage users, roles, or API credentials. "Falcon API Manager" is not the default role presented in the official role model. Reference topics: User Management, Default Roles, API Clients and Keys, Role-Based Access Control.

NEW QUESTION # 16

When a host belongs to more than one host group, how is sensor update precedence determined?

- A. Groups have no impact on sensor update policies
- B. Sensors of hosts that belong to more than one group must be manually updated
- C. The highest precedence policy from the most important group is applied to the host
- D. All of the host's groups are examined in aggregate and the policy with highest precedence is applied to the host

Answer: D

Explanation:

The option that describes how sensor update precedence is determined when a host belongs to more than one host group is that all of the host's groups are examined in aggregate and the policy with highest precedence is applied to the host. A Sensor Update policy is a policy that controls how and when the Falcon sensor is updated on a host. You can create and assign custom Sensor Update policies to different hosts or groups in your environment. Each Sensor Update policy has a precedence value, which determines its priority over other policies. The higher the precedence value, the higher the priority. If a host belongs to more than one host group, each with a different Sensor Update policy assigned, then all of the host's groups are examined in aggregate and the policy with highest precedence among them is applied to the host.
