NEW QUESTION # 28
What is a Data Center?

- A. A room in a building dedicated to monitoring data and information.
- B. A building or a portion of a building where debugging takes place
- C. A building or a portion of a building whose primary function is to house a computer room and its related support areas
- D. A building or portion of a building whose primary function is to research new data.

Answer: C

Explanation:
Explanation
A building or a portion of a building whose primary function is to house a computer room and its related support areas. A Data Center is a secure, temperature-controlled environment that houses computer systems, equipment, and associated components. It is typically used to store, process, and distribute large amounts of data and information. Data Centers typically include server racks, storage arrays, network switches, firewalls, and other components necessary for the operation of computer systems.

NEW QUESTION # 29

Which type of power can be a source available to the data center that takes over the function of supplying when utility power is unavailable?

- A. Alternate
- B. Passive
- C. Standby
- D. Active

Answer: C

Explanation:
Standby power, also known as backup power, is a type of power that can be a source available to the data center that takes over the function of supplying when utility power is unavailable. Standby power systems are designed to provide power to critical loads in the event of a power outage, and can include generators, uninterruptible power supplies (UPS), and batteries. Standby power systems can be used to provide power to the data center for a short period of time, such as a few hours or days, until utility power is restored.
Passive, Active and Alternate are not specific type of power sources used in data center. They are terms used in different context and have different meaning.

NEW QUESTION # 30

The distance that a signal's energy can travel in the time it takes for one cycle to occur is called the signal's:

- A. wavelength
- B. frequency
- C. amplitude
- D. period

Answer: A

Explanation:
Wavelength is a measure of the distance that a signal's energy can travel in the time it takes for one cycle of the signal to occur. It is calculated by dividing the speed of light by the frequency of the signal. Wavelength is generally expressed in meters (m).

NEW QUESTION # 31

Which one of the following is an overall consideration for physical security?

- A. Apply the technology
- B. Apply the solution
- C. Identify the problem
- D. Define the problem

Answer: D

Explanation:
Explanation
Defining the problem is an important overall consideration for physical security. This process involves identifying and analyzing the threats and vulnerabilities that could potentially affect the security of the system, as well as determining what steps need to be taken to mitigate these risks. This process should be done before any other steps are taken to ensure physical security, as it helps to ensure that the security measures are tailored to the specific needs of the system.

NEW QUESTION # 32
Which one of the following is an advantage of Air Cooled Self-Contained System?

- A. It doesn't requires ductwork and/or dropped ceiling
- B. Lowest installation cost
- C. It has more heat removal capacity per unit
- D. All components contain more than one unit

Answer: A

Explanation:
Air cooled self-contained systems are highly efficient and do not require ductwork and/or dropped ceiling for installation. This makes them a great choice for locations where installation costs are a major factor, such as in residential applications, or in places with limited space. Additionally, air cooled self-contained systems have more heat removal capacity per unit compared to water cooled systems, making them more cost- effective in the long run.
