NEW QUESTION # 53
As a tester you are part of a development team for health monitoring system to record and synchronize various health parameters, calculate health score and provide practical advice on how to maintain and improve health. You are asked to review the acceptance criteria for the following user story:
US23; As a user of the system. I can monitor my blood pressure and obtain alerts in case of excessive pressure, in order to prevent the risk associated with hypertension.
Which of the following is NOT a good example of an acceptance criterion for this requirement?

- A. The monitoring system displays the heart rate together with the blood pressure
- B. The alert thresholds depend on the following user's personal settings: age, weight and gender
- C. People with hypertension are advised to get their blood pressure checked at least thrice a week
- D. The system should be developed using Java script framework to allow fast response times

Answer: D

Explanation:
Acceptance criteria describe what the system must do to fulfill a requirement from the user or business perspective. They must be observable, testable, and relevant to the business outcome or expected behavior.
In this scenario, the user story is about monitoring blood pressure and receiving alerts for excessive pressure.
The acceptance criteria should focus on system behavior, thresholds, and how alerts are triggered based on user settings.
Option D is not a good acceptance criterion because:
It specifies a technical implementation detail (JavaScript framework), which is not the concern of acceptance testing.
Acceptance criteria should not prescribe how the system is built, but what it must do from a business or user point of view.
Other options (A, B, and C) all reflect testable and behavior-focused outcomes linked to the user story's goal.
D). The system should be developed using JavaScript framework to allow fast response times
