NEW QUESTION # 20

An organization expects a large influx of users who use the standard analysis tools in the portal Map Viewer. The organization is concerned with the hosting server's available resources. Which system resource should be closely monitored?

- A. Network utilization
- B. Disk activity
- C. CPU utilization

Answer: C

Explanation:

When users perform standard analysis tasks in the portal Map Viewer, the hostingserver executes geoprocessing operations that are computationally intensive. These operations require significant CPU resources. Monitoring CPU utilization helps ensure that the server can handle the increased load without performance degradation.

While disk activity and network utilization are important, they are less directly impacted by standard analysis tasks compared to CPU usage. Therefore, CPU utilization is the primary resource to monitor in this scenario.

NEW QUESTION # 22

A GIS administrator is analyzing the usage statistics of ArcGIS Enterprise. The administrator needs to pull tabular statistics on various groups and users about the type of content that they produce and consume.

Which action should the administrator perform?

- A. Run usage reports in Portal for ArcGIS to determine the effect on the organization.
- B. Use ArcGIS Monitor to capture desired information over a period of time in a report.
- C. Open ArcGIS Server statistics to create a report for commonly used items.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Portal for ArcGIS provides built-in usage reports that allow administrators to monitor how members are using, sharing, and contributing resources. These reports offer insights into content creation, usage patterns, and group activities. Administrators can generate and export these reports in tabular formats for further analysis.

ArcGIS Server statistics focus on service-level metrics and do not provide detailed user or group content statistics. ArcGIS Monitor captures system performance metrics but is not designed for detailed content usage analysis by users or groups.
