Salesforce Certified B2C Commerce Architect Sample Questions (Q66-Q71):

NEW QUESTION # 66

A company that is a shoe-producer is doing Salesforce B2C Commerce implementation. In their Enterprise Resource Warning (ERP) system, the products are marked as being one of three types: boots, sandals, and sneakers. The business requirements based on the type are:

* The messaging on Product Detail page is different

* Customers are able to filter their Product Search Results

The customer's operations team asks about the format in which to send this value in the catalog. Which data type should the Architect specify for this attribute In the Data Mapping document?

- A. A custom attribute of type string containing comma separated values.
- B. A custom attribute of type enum-of-string (multiselect able value).
- C. A custom attribute type set-of-string containing multiple values.
- D. A custom attribute of type enum-of-string (single selectable value)

Answer: D

Explanation:

For the shoe producer implementing Salesforce B2C Commerce, the attribute used to specify the type of shoes (boots, sandals, sneakers) should be set as a single selectable value, hence the use of an enum-of-string type. This data type allows for the selection of one option from a predefined list, which is ideal for cases where each product can only be categorized into one type. This ensures that data integrity is maintained while providing clear and distinct categorization that can easily be used for filtering on the Product Search Results page and for customized messaging on the Product Detail page.

NEW QUESTION # 67

During a review of the most recent release notes, the Architect finds that Salesforce has deprecated an API that is used throughout the site. After reviewing the deprecated API usage in Business Manager, the Architect narrows down the usage of that API to a particular LINK integration cartridge. The cartridge was integrated when the site was first launched and is heavily customized for the Client.

What is the recommended way for the Architect to remove the deprecated API so the LINK integration continues to work without interruptions, and lowest level of effort?

- A. The Architect does not need to do anything at this time, the API will continue to work with no issues for the foreseeable future.
- B. The Architect should update all the deprecated API cats in the already integrated LINK cartridge and test thoroughly.
- C. The Architect should check to see If the LINK cartridge has been updated already, integrate It, apply the customisations, and teat thoroughly.
- D. The Architect should contact the company that created the LINK cartridge to fix the issue and provide the client with updated code.

Answer: C

Explanation:

When facing a deprecated API that is used in a LINK integration cartridge, the recommended approach is to check for an updated version of the cartridge that may have replaced the deprecated API with a supported one.

If an update is available:

* Integrate the updated cartridge into the site, ensuring compatibility with the current site configuration.

* Re-apply customizations that were made to the original cartridge to maintain functional consistency.

* Thorough testing should be conducted to ensure that the integration works seamlessly without causing disruptions in the site's functionality.

This approach minimizes effort by leveraging updates provided by the cartridge vendor while ensuring the site remains functional and compliant with current API standards.

NEW QUESTION # 68

The Client wishes to implement a third party integration that allows for free shipping. If the customer is a member of the third party service, when the customer's order is exported to the Order Management System (OMS) it also creates a custom object in order to track additional data before sending that order data to the third-party service as well.

What technical concern should the Architect raise to protect performance and stability of the site?

- A. The customer order quota and related retention or deletion needs.
- B. The OMS having order data sent to a third party and related security needs.
- C. The customer's order data sent to a third-party and related security needs.
- D. The custom object quota and related retention or deletion needs.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 69

A customer service team raised a new business requirement that requires a multi-cloud solution design between B2C Commerce, Service Cloud, and Marketing Cloud. A Solution Architect has been hired to lead the design of the multi-cloud solution.

Which two actions should the Solution Architect take to accurately capture requirements and deliver the solution overview?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Conduct discovery workshops to create a user acceptance testing document and invite business owners, each cloud technical architect, and implementation development team.
- B. Include the customer service team so that they can provide detailed user stories prior to the discovery workshops.
- C. Include functional subject matter experts and technical resources across multiple discovery workshops, grouped by business function to ensure all requirements are captured.
- D. Conduct discovery workshops and upon completion present the solution back to the design authority or executive stakeholders to validate the solution.

Answer: A,C

NEW QUESTION # 70

The Client wants to offer custom made container products on its new B2C Commerce storefront. The Client provided two business requirements.

* Customer can specify container length, width, and height.

* Customer can specify the material that the container is made of.

The Client also provided the Architect a current data schema (shown below) for reference while preparing the technical documentation.

Which two gaps between the requirements and the data schema should the Architect discuss with the Client?

Choose 2 answers

- A. The data schema includes a Color_ID field, but there isn't a business requirement to allow the customer to specify container color.
- B. The data schema includes unique identifiers for material and color fields, but neither are reflected in the business requirements.
- C. The data schema includes a material Price_Markup field, but there isn't a business requirement to factor the material cost into the final price calculation.
- D. The data schema includes an implied structure that the customer's choices should be captured as custom objects, but there isn't a business requirement to do so.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

The provided data schema includes several fields that do not match the stated business requirements, which focus on the custom dimensions and materials of the containers:

Option A: The inclusion of unique identifiers for materials and color fields in the data schema suggests a level of detail and structure around these attributes that is not reflected in the business requirements. If the business does not require tracking or differentiating materials beyond just naming them, this might be unnecessarily complex.

Option D: The data schema includes a Color_ID field, which implies the ability to specify the color of the container. However, the business requirements do not mention color as a customization option available to customers. This discrepancy needs to be addressed to ensure that the database design aligns with actual business needs.
