Questions (Q39-Q44):

NEW QUESTION # 39

Which is the syntax that you type into the developer console to check your jQuery selectors using WalkMe?

- A. jQuery("InsertSelectorHere")
- B. walkmejQuery("InsertSelectorHere")
- C. wnjQuery("InsertSelectorHere")
- D. WMjQuery InsertSelectorHere

Answer: C

Explanation:

WalkMe provides a custom jQuery wrapper, wnjQuery, to test and validate jQuery selectors within the WalkMe environment. This wrapper ensures that selectors are evaluated in the context of WalkMe's framework, accounting for its specific DOM interactions and configurations. To check a jQuery selector, Builders type wnjQuery("InsertSelectorHere") into the browser's developer console, replacing InsertSelectorHere with the desired selector (e.g., wnjQuery("#myButton")). This returns the matched elements, confirming the selector's accuracy.

The other options are incorrect:

- * WMjQuery InsertSelectorHere(A) is not a valid syntax and lacks proper formatting.
- * walkmejQuery("InsertSelectorHere")(B) uses incorrect capitalization and naming.
- * jQuery("InsertSelectorHere")(C) uses standard jQuery, which may not account for WalkMe's specific environment.

Extract from Official WalkMe Documentation:

Per the WalkMe Editor User Guide (SAP WalkMe Digital Adoption Consultant Study Guide, Section 2.7:

jQuery Selectors):

"To test jQuery selectors in the WalkMe environment, use the wnjQuery function in the browser's developer console. Syntax: wnjQuery("selector"). This ensures compatibility with WalkMe's framework and accurate element targeting." The course Advancing Your Skills in Building WalkMe Solutions explains:

"When troubleshooting or validating jQuery selectors, always use wnjQuery("selector") in the developer console to ensure the selector works within WalkMe's context, as standard jQuery may produce inconsistent results." Option D, wnjQuery("InsertSelectorHere"), is the correct syntax.
