- B. A prioritized list of requirements to be delivered in a sprint

NEW QUESTION # 34

Which of the following is a benefit of 'being and doing agile'?

- A. Using agile techniques
- B. Increasing user satisfaction
- C. Focusing on completing tasks
- D. Following processes

Answer: B

Explanation:

A key benefit of being and doing agile is increasing user satisfaction by delivering value early and continuously, adapting to feedback, and ensuring the product meets real user needs. Agile approaches emphasize collaboration with customers and iterative delivery, which enhances satisfaction compared to traditional, rigid methods.

While following processes (A) and using agile techniques (B) are means to an end, they do not directly guarantee benefits. Focusing solely on tasks (D) risks losing sight of value delivery.

User satisfaction is a central measure of agile success and reflects the effective application of agile principles.

3. Those who will be developing the project's products.

NEW QUESTION # 36

In which process should the requirements for delivery of specialist products be agreed?

- A. Managing a stage boundary
- B. Managing product delivery
- C. Initiating a project
- D. Starting up a project

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Managing Product Delivery process includes agreeing on and controlling the requirements for the delivery of specialist products. This process ensures that team managers understand the scope and quality expectations before work begins and that delivery aligns with the project plan.

Initiating a project and starting up a project establish overall direction but do not handle detailed delivery requirements. Managing a stage boundary reviews progress and plans the next stage.

This process maintains clarity and accountability for delivery within PRINCE2's framework, facilitating effective control over specialist products.
