NEW QUESTION # 162
Exhibit.
Which of the following logical statements results in Table B?

- A.
- B.
- C.
- D.

Answer: C

Explanation:
Explanation
The logical statement that results in Table B is Option D. Option D is a logical statement that uses the AND operator to combine two conditions: Name = "Tom" and Region = "BC". The AND operator returns true only if both conditions are true, otherwise it returns false. Therefore, Option D will select only the rows from Table A that satisfy both conditions, which are rows 4, 5, 6, and 7. These rows form Table B, as shown below:
Name | Gender flag | Level | College | Code | Region Tom | Male | Elementary | A | BC | BC Kim | Female | Elementary | A | BC | BC Pat | Female | Elementary | A | BC | BC Ben | Male | Elementary | A | BC | BC The other options are not correct, as they use different logical operators or conditions that do not result in Table B. Option A uses the OR operator, which returns true if either condition is true, or both. Option A will select all the rows from Table A except row 3, which does not match either condition. Option B uses the NOT operator, which returns the opposite of the condition. Option B will select all the rows from Table A except rows 4, 5, 6, and 7, which match the condition. Option C uses a different condition, Region = "ON", which does not match any row in Table A. Option C will select no rows from Table A. Reference: [SQL Logical Operators - W3Schools]

NEW QUESTION # 163
Which of the following would a data analyst look for first if 100% participation is needed on survey results?

- A. Redundant data
- B. Missing data
- C. Duplicate data
- D. Invalid data

Answer: B

Explanation:
Explanation
Missing data is a type of data quality issue that occurs when some values in a data set are not recorded or available. Missing data can affect the validity and reliability of survey results, especially if the missing values are not random or ignorable. Missing data can also reduce the sample size and the statistical power of the analysis12 If 100% participation is needed on survey results, a data analyst would look for missing data first, because missing data would indicate that some participants did not complete or submit the survey, or that some responses were not recorded or transmitted correctly. A data analyst would need to identify the causes and patterns of missing data, and apply appropriate methods to handle or prevent missing data, such as imputation, deletion, weighting, or follow-up12

NEW QUESTION # 164
Which of the following data sampling methods involves dividing a population into subgroups by similar characteristics?

- A. Systematic
- B. Simple random
- C. Stratified

- D. Convenience

Answer: C

Explanation:
Explanation
Stratified sampling is a data sampling method that involves dividing a population into subgroups by similar characteristics, such as age, gender, income, etc. Then, a simple random sample is drawn from each subgroup.
This method ensures that each subgroup is adequately represented in the sample and reduces the sampling error. References: CompTIA Data+ Certification Exam Objectives, page 11.

NEW QUESTION # 165
An analyst is reporting on the average income for a county and is reviewing the following data:
Which of the following is the reason the analyst would need to cleanse the data in this data set?

- A. Data completeness
- B. Data outliers
- C. Missing values
- D. Duplicate data

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 166
The current date is July 14, 2020. A data analyst has been asked to create a report that shows the company's year-over-year Q2 2020 sales. Which of the following reports should the analyst compare?

- A. YTD 2020 and YTD 2019
- B. Q2 2020 and Q4 2019
- C. Q2 2020 and Q2 2021
- D. Q2 2020 and Q2 2019

Answer: D

Explanation:
Year-over-year (YoY) comparison is a method of evaluating two or more measured events to compare the results at one period with those from a comparable period on an annual basis. For a year-over-year comparison of Q2 2020 sales, the analyst should compare the sales figures from Q2 2020 with those from Q2
2019. This comparison will show the growth, stagnation, or decline in sales over the year and is a common practice in financial analysis to assess performance.
