APICS Certified Supply Chain Professional Sample Questions (Q70-Q75):

NEW QUESTION # 70

Which of the following factors typically is most important in successfully implementing sales and operations planning (S&OP)?

- A. Focus on 3 months to 18 months in the future
- B. Involvement and accountability at senior management level
- C. Involvement of specialists from all functional groups within an organization
- D. Creation of a dedicated S&OP organizational unit

Answer: B

Explanation:

Successful implementation of Sales and Operations Planning (S&OP) hinges on the involvement and accountability at the senior management level. Senior management commitment ensures that the S&OP process receives the necessary attention, resources, and strategic alignment. This level of involvement helps in resolving cross-functional conflicts, making critical decisions, and aligning the S&OP process with the overall business strategy. Senior leaders also drive accountability and foster a culture of collaboration across the organization, which is vital for the success of S&OP.
