NEW QUESTION # 623

FILL BLANK

Fill in the blank with the appropriate term. A _____ device is used for uniquely recognizing humans based upon one or more intrinsic physical or behavioral traits.

Answer:

Explanation:

biometric

Explanation:

A biometric device is used for uniquely recognizing humans based upon one or more intrinsic, physical, or behavioral traits.

Biometrics is used as a form of identity access management and access control. It is also used to identify individuals in groups that are under surveillance. Biometric characteristics can be divided into two main classes:

1. Physiological: These devices are related to the shape of the body. These are not limited to the fingerprint, face recognition, DNA, hand and palm geometry, and iris recognition, which has largely replaced the retina and odor/scent.
2. Behavioral: These are related to the behavior of a person. They are not limited to the typing rhythm, gait, and voice.

NEW QUESTION # 624

Michael decides to view the-----to track employee actions on the organization's network.

- A. Firewall settings
- B. Firewall policy
- C. Firewall log
- D. Firewall rule set

Answer: C

Explanation:

Michael would view the firewall log to track employee actions on the organization's network. Firewall logs are records of events that are captured by the firewall. They typically include details about allowed and denied traffic, network connections, and other transactions through the firewall. By analyzing these logs, network administrators can monitor network usage, detect unusual patterns of activity, and identify potential security threats or breaches.

References: The importance of monitoring firewall logs is emphasized in the EC-Council's Certified Network Defender (C|ND) program. It is part of the network traffic monitoring and analysis, which is crucial for detecting and responding to incidents on the network.

NEW QUESTION # 625

Which of the following recovery plans include specific strategies and actions to address the specific variances assumptions lead to a particular safety problem or emergency situation?

- A. Business Continuity Plan
- B. The emergency plan
- C. None
- D. disaster survival plan

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 626

Which type of risk treatment process Includes not allowing the use of laptops in an organization to ensure its security?

- A. Risk avoidance
- B. Reduce the risk
- C. Mitigate the risk
- D. Eliminate the risk

Answer: A

Explanation:

The risk treatment process that includes not allowing the use of laptops in an organization to ensure its security is known as risk avoidance. Risk avoidance is a strategy that involves identifying a potential risk and making the decision to not engage in the activity that presents the risk. In the context of information security, this could mean choosing not to use certain technologies or systems that could pose a security threat. By not using laptops, an organization can avoid the risks associated with loss, theft, or unauthorized access that laptops, being portable, are particularly susceptible to.

References: The answer aligns with the principles of risk management in network security, as outlined in the Certified Network Defender (CND) course by EC-Council, which emphasizes understanding and applying the appropriate risk treatment strategies, including avoidance, mitigation, transfer, and acceptance.

312-38 test questions have a mock examination system with a timing function, which provides you with the same examination environment as the real exam. Although some of the hard copy materials contain mock examination papers, they do not have the automatic timekeeping system. Therefore, it is difficult for them to bring the students into a real test state. With 312-38 Exam Guide, you can perform the same computer operations as the real exam, completely taking you into the state of the actual exam, which will help you to predict the problems that may occur during the exam, and let you familiarize yourself with the exam operation in advance and avoid rushing during exams.
