Salesforce Data Cloud Accredited Professional Exam Sample Questions (Q61-Q66):

NEW QUESTION # 61
When creating a segment on an individual, what is the result of using two separate containers linked by an AND: At Least 1 of GoodsProduct.Color Is Equal To 'red' AND At Least 1 of GoodsProduct.
PrimaryProductCategory Is Equal To shoes'?

- A. Individuals who purchased at least 1 of any red' product and also purchased at least 1 pair of shoes'
- B. Individuals who made a purchase of at least 1 of only 'red shoes' and nothing else
- C. Individuals who purchased at least 1 'red shoes' as a single line item in a purchase
- D. Individuals whopurchased at least 1 'red shoes'. 1 of any red' item, or 1 of any 'shoes' item in a purchase

Answer: A

Explanation:
According to the Data Cloud documentation, when using two separatecontainers linked by an AND operator, the segment includes individuals who meet both conditions. In this case, the segment includes individuals who purchased at least one product with the color attribute equal to 'red', and also purchased at least one product with the primary product category attribute equal to 'shoes'. The products do not have to be the same or in the same order line item.

NEW QUESTION # 62
What is a reason to create a formula when ingesting a data stream?

- A. To transform is date time field into a dale field for use in data mapping
- B. To remove duplicate rows of data from the data stream
- C. To add a unique external identifier to an existing ruleset
- D. To concatenate files so they are ingested in the correct sequence

Answer: A

Explanation:
Creating a formula during data stream ingestion is often done to manipulate or transform data fields to meet specific requirements. In this case, the most common reason is to transform a date-time field into a date field for use in data mapping . Here's why:
Understanding the Requirement
When ingesting data into Salesforce Data Cloud, certain fields may need to be transformed to align with the target data model.
For example, a date-time field (e.g., "2023-10-05T14:30:00Z") may need to be converted into a date field (e. g., "2023-10-05") for proper mapping and analysis.
Why Transform a Date-Time Field into a Date Field?
Data Mapping Compatibility :
Some data models or downstream systems may only accept date fields (without the time component).
Transforming the field ensures compatibility and avoids errors during ingestion or activation.
Simplified Analysis :
Removing the time component simplifies analysis and reporting, especially when working with daily trends or aggregations.
Standardization :
Converting date-time fields into consistent date formats ensures uniformity across datasets.
Steps to Implement This Solution
Step 1: Identify the Date-Time Field
During the data stream setup, identify the field that contains the date-time value (e.g., "Order_Date_Time").
Step 2: Create a Formula Field
Use the Formula Field option in the data stream configuration to create a new field.
Apply a transformation function (e.g., DATE() or equivalent) to extract the date portion from the date-time field.
Step 3: Map the Transformed Field

Map the newly created date field to the corresponding field in the target data model (e.g., Unified Profile or Data Lake Object).

Step 4: Validate the Transformation

Test the data stream to ensure the transformation works correctly and the date field is properly ingested.

Why Not Other Options?

A). To concatenate files so they are ingested in the correct sequence :Concatenation is not a typical use case for formulas during ingestion. File sequencing is usually handled at the file ingestion level, not through formulas.

B). To add a unique external identifier to an existing ruleset :Adding a unique identifier is typically done during data preparation or identity resolution, not through formulas during ingestion.

D). To remove duplicate rows of data from the data stream :Removing duplicates is better handled through deduplication rules or transformations, not formulas.

Conclusion

The primary reason to create a formula when ingesting a data stream is to transform a date-time field into a date field for use in data mapping . This ensures compatibility, simplifies analysis, and standardizes the data for downstream use.

NEW QUESTION # 63

Which two features are impacted by the timezone setting in the org Data Cloud is provisioned in?

- A. Activation Schedule
- B. Segment Schedule
- C. Identity Resolution
- D. Ingestion Schedule

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

These two features are impacted by the timezone setting in the org DataCloud is provisioned in. The segment schedule determines how often a segment is refreshed based on the selected timezone. The activation schedule determines how often a segment is exported to an activation target based on the selected timezone.

NEW QUESTION # 64

What does it mean to build a trust-based, first-party data asset?

- A. Provide transparency and security for data gathered from individuals who provide consent for its use and receive value in exchange
- B. Ensure opt-in consents are collected for all email marketing as required by law
- C. Pass the trust-based compliance rules as a first-party data asset is added to Data Cloud
- D. Obtain competitive data from reliable sources through interviews, surveys, and polls

Answer: A

Explanation:

This is what it means to build a trust-based, first-party data asset. It involves respecting the privacy and preferences of individuals who share their data with an organization and ensuring that the data is used in a responsible and ethical way. NEW QUESTION # 65

An administrator is setting up a data stream with transactional data. What field type should the administrator choose to ensure that leading zeros in the purchase order number are preserved?

- A. Decimal
- B. Serial
- C. Number
- D. Text

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Text field type should be chosen to preserve leading zeros in the purchase order number, as this field type stores alphanumeric characters as strings. The Number and Decimal field types store numeric values as numbers, which would remove any leading zeros. The Serial field type is not a valid field type in Data Cloud.
