NEW QUESTION # 68
Describe the difference between Class of Service (CoS) and Differentiated Services Code Point (DSCP).

- A. They are similar and can be used interchangeably.
- B. CoS is only used to determine CLASS of traffic DSCP is only used to differentiate between different Classes.
- C. CoS has much finer granularity than DSCP
- D. CoS is only contained in VLAN Tag fields DSCP is in the IP Header and preserved throughout the IP packet flow

Answer: D

Explanation:
Explanation
CoS and DSCP are both methods of marking packets for quality of service (QoS) purposes. QoS is a mechanism that allows network devices to prioritize and differentiate traffic based on certain criteria, such as application type, source, destination, etc. CoS stands for Class of Service and is a 3-bit field in the 802.1Q VLAN tag header. CoS can only be used on Ethernet frames that have a VLAN tag, and it can only be preserved within a single VLAN domain. DSCP stands for Differentiated Services Code Point and is a 6-bit field in the IP header. DSCP can be used on any IP packet, regardless of the underlying layer 2 technology, and it can be preserved throughout the IP packet flow, unless it is modified by intermediate devices.

NEW QUESTION # 69
What is the best practice for handling voice traffic with dynamic segmentation on AOS-CX switches?

- A. Central authentication and port-based tunneling of the voice traffic.
- B. Switch authentication and local forwarding of the voice traffic
- C. Controller authentication and port-based tunneling of all traffic
- D. Switch authentication and user-based tunneling of the voice traffic.

Answer: B

Explanation:
This is the best practice for handling voice traffic with dynamic segmentation on AOS-CX switches. Dynamic segmentation is a feature that allows AOS-CX switches to tunnel user traffic to a controller or another switch based on user roles and policies. For voice traffic, it is recommended to use switch authentication and local forwarding, which means the voice devices are authenticated by the switch and their traffic is forwarded locally without tunneling. This reduces latency and jitter for voice traffic and improves voice quality. The other options are incorrect because they either use central authentication or tunneling, which are not optimal for voice traffic.
