Adobe Commerce Developer Expert Sample Questions (Q25-Q30):

NEW QUESTION # 25
An Adobe Commerce Expert is tasked with configuring different pricing for products across a multi-site installation. Each website requires independent control of its prices while using the same catalog data.
What is the minimum store hierarchy structure required to achieve this?

- A. One website, one store, and multiple store views
- B. Multiple websites, each with one store and at least one store view
- C. Multiple stores and a single store view for each store

Answer: B

Explanation:
In Adobe Commerce, product prices are scoped at the website level. To allow different prices per site while sharing the same catalog, you must create multiple websites, each with its own store and store view(s).
A (multiple stores, single website) # shares the same price configuration.
B (multiple store views) # only useful for localization (translations), but pricing is still shared.
C is correct because each website maintains independent pricing.

NEW QUESTION # 27
A multi-source merchant asks an Adobe Commerce Developer to prioritize inventory source selection based on shipping address and minimal delivery cost.
How should the Developer implement this task functionality?

- A. Use Source Priority Algorithm and utilize GetSourceSelectionAlgorithmList.
- B. Configure Distance Priority Algorithm and implement PlaceReservationsForSalesEventInterface.
- C. Register new Source Selection Algorithms (SSA) via di.xml and implement SourceSelectionInterface.

Answer: C

Explanation:
To customize how inventory sources are prioritized, developers must create a new Source Selection Algorithm (SSA). This is done by registering a new SSA in di.xml and implementing SourceSelectionInterface. This allows developers to define rules such as shipping address proximity or delivery cost.
B is partially correct: Distance Priority Algorithm exists, but implementing PlaceReservationsForSalesEventInterface is not the right way to customize selection logic.
C Source Priority Algorithm is fixed (based on predefined priority), not custom.
