NEW QUESTION # 39

What does the strategic level focus on in Business Process Management?

- A. Define responsibilities in business processes.
- B. Align business processes to company goals.
- C. Support business processes with the right systems.
- D. Run business tasks efficiently.

Answer: B

Explanation:

At the strategic level, Business Process Management (BPM) focuses on aligning business processes with company goals. This alignment is essential for ensuring that all business activities contribute effectively towards achieving the overarching objectives and strategic vision of the organization. By aligning processes with company goals, organizations can ensure that their operations are strategically oriented, resource allocation is optimized, and every process improvement initiative contributes to the long-term success of the business. This strategic focus is distinct from operational concerns such as supporting processes with the right systems, defining responsibilities, or running tasks efficiently, which are more tactical or operational in nature. NEW QUESTION # 40

What is a variant in Process Mining?

- A. A variant backtracks the process flow
- B. A variant is a digital footprint of system-based events
- C. A variant is a set of cases with the same sequence of events
- D. A variant visualizes all tasks to complete the process

Answer: C

Explanation:

In Process Mining, a variant represents a unique sequence of activities performed in a process, as derived from event log data. The SAP Signavio Process Intelligence Documentation clearly defines this concept:

* Exact Extract: "A process variant is a unique sequence of activities (events) that a set of cases follows.

Each variant represents a distinct path through the process, and Process Mining tools like the Variant Explorer Widget identify and visualize these paths to show how processes are executed in reality." (SAP Signavio Process Intelligence User Guide, section on "Process Variants and Variant Explorer").

* Explanation:

* Option D (A variant is a set of cases with the same sequence of events): This is correct because a variant groups all cases that follow the identical sequence of activities, allowing analysts to identify common or deviant process paths. For example, in an order-to-cash process, one variant might include "Order Created # Order Confirmed # Shipped," while another might include an additional "Order Revised" step.

* Option A (A variant is a digital footprint of system-based events) is incorrect because the digital footprint refers to the event log as a whole, not a specific variant. Variants are derived from this footprint during analysis.

* Option B (A variant visualizes all tasks to complete the process) is incorrect as variants show specific sequences, not all possible tasks. The Process Discovery Widget visualizes the overall process, not individual variants.

* Option C (A variant backtracks the process flow) is incorrect because backtracking is a function of widgets like Process Discovery, not the definition of a variant.
