Databricks Certified Data Engineer Associate Exam Sample Questions (Q119-Q124):

NEW QUESTION # 119

Which of the following benefits is provided by the array functions from Spark SQL?

- A. An ability to work with complex, nested data ingested from JSON files
- B. An ability to work with time-related data in specified intervals
- C. An ability to work with an array of tables for procedural automation
- D. An ability to work with data in a variety of types at once
- E. An ability to work with data within certain partitions and windows

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

Array functions in Spark SQL are primarily used for working with arrays and complex, nested data structures, such as those often encountered when ingesting JSON files. These functions allow you to manipulate and query nested arrays and structures within your data, making it easier to extract and work with specific elements or values within complex data formats. While some of the other options (such as option A for working with different data types) are features of Spark SQL or SQL in general, array functions specifically excel at handling complex, nested data structures like those found in JSON files.

NEW QUESTION # 120

A data engineer has a Job that has a complex run schedule, and they want to transfer that schedule to other Jobs.

Rather than manually selecting each value in the scheduling form in Databricks, which of the following tools can the data engineer use to represent and submit the schedule programmatically?

- A. There is no way to represent and submit this information programmatically
- B. `pyspark.sql.types.TimestampType`
- C. `datetime`
- D. Cron syntax
- E. `pyspark.sql.types.DateType`

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 121

Which of the following describes the relationship between Gold tables and Silver tables?

- A. Gold tables are more likely to contain a less refined view of data than Silver tables.
- B. Gold tables are more likely to contain valuable data than Silver tables.
- C. Gold tables are more likely to contain more data than Silver tables.
- D. Gold tables are more likely to contain aggregations than Silver tables.
- E. Gold tables are more likely to contain truthful data than Silver tables.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

In some data processing pipelines, especially those following a typical "Bronze-Silver-Gold" data lakehouse architecture, Silver tables are often considered a more refined version of the raw or Bronze data. Silver tables may include data cleansing, schema enforcement, and some initial transformations. Gold tables, on the other hand, typically represent a stage where data is further enriched, aggregated, and processed to provide valuable insights for analytical purposes. This could indeed involve more aggregations compared to Silver tables.

NEW QUESTION # 122

A data engineer is writing a script that is meant to ingest new data from cloud storage. In the event of the Schema change, the ingestion should fail. It should fail until the changes downstream source can be found and verified as intended changes.

Which command will meet the requirements?

- A. `rescue`
- B. `failOnNewColumns`

- C. addNewColumns
- D. none

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 123

Identify the impact of ON VIOLATION DROP ROW and ON VIOLATION FAIL UPDATE for a constraint violation.

A data engineer has created an ETL pipeline using Delta Live table to manage their company travel reimbursement detail, they want to ensure that the if the location details has not been provided by the employee, the pipeline needs to be terminated.

How can the scenario be implemented?

- A. CONSTRAINT valid_location EXPECT (location = NULL)
- B. CONSTRAINT valid_location EXPECT (location != NULL) ON DROP ROW
- C. CONSTRAINT valid_location EXPECT (location != NULL) ON VIOLATION FAIL
- D. CONSTRAINT valid_location EXPECT (location != NULL) ON VIOLATION FAIL UPDATE

Answer: D
