CIPS Category Management Sample Questions (Q15-Q20):

NEW QUESTION # 15

Frankie Burgers operates in the UK and USA. One supplier holds a monopoly, but the item supplied is low cost. According to the Kraljic Matrix, which type of item is this?

- A. Strategic
- B. Bottleneck
- C. Leverage
- D. Routine

Answer: B

Explanation:

This item is classified as a Bottleneck item in the Kraljic Portfolio Matrix. Bottleneck items are low-value in terms of spend but carry high supply risk, often because there are very few suppliers or a monopoly situation.

In this case, Frankie Burgers faces a monopoly supplier, meaning supply risk is high. Even though the item is low cost, its unavailability could disrupt operations, creating significant vulnerability.

By contrast:

- * Leverage items are high-value but low risk, suited for competitive sourcing.
- * Strategic items are high-value and high-risk, requiring partnerships.
- * Routine items are low-value and low-risk, suitable for automated procurement.

Category managers facing bottleneck items often mitigate risk through strategies such as developing alternative suppliers, stockpiling or long-term contracts to secure continuity of supply.

NEW QUESTION # 16

Polygon Ltd is a buyer of components. Jeff, a Category Manager at Polygon, is analysing buyer strength in this marketplace to determine his procurement strategy. Which of the following would increase buyer strength?

- A. Fewer suppliers in the marketplace
- B. Low levels of substitute
- C. High level of inflation
- D. Placing larger order quantities

Answer: D

Explanation:

Buyer strength increases when order volumes are large, as this gives leverage in negotiations and can improve pricing and terms. The other options do not necessarily strengthen buyer power.

NEW QUESTION # 17

Caleb is completing a risk assessment on his supply chain using a matrix categorising risks on a scale of 1-5. He identifies one risk with a score of 2. Which category of risk would this fall into?

- A. Main
- B. Moderate
- C. Minor
- D. Major

Answer: C

Explanation:

Risk assessments in procurement often use a likelihood × severity matrix. Risks are scored on scales from 1-5, and the scores are multiplied. A score of 2 indicates a minor risk with low impact and/or low probability.

For comparison, risks with scores in the upper range (e.g., 20-25) are considered major risks that demand immediate mitigation. Minor risks, although not ignored, are often monitored rather than heavily resourced. This structured approach ensures procurement teams focus resources on the most significant threats while still maintaining oversight of low-level risks. By categorising risks this way, category managers create clarity for decision-makers and align procurement risk management with enterprise-wide frameworks.

NEW QUESTION # 18

Claudio wants to limit risks from supplier financial instability. Which two actions are most effective?

- A. Limit spend with one supplier to 30% of external spend
- B. Contract smaller businesses and start-ups
- C. Have contingency plans in place
- D. Use fewer suppliers

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

The most effective approaches are:

- * Limiting dependence on one supplier [B]: CIPS suggests no more than 30% of spend should be concentrated with a single supplier. This reduces exposure if that supplier becomes insolvent or fails to deliver.
- * Having contingency plans [D]: Preparing alternative suppliers, safety stock, or emergency logistics ensures continuity in case of failure.

Options A and C are poor practices:

- * Using fewer suppliers [A]: Increases dependency, making the business more vulnerable.
- * Using small start-ups exclusively [C]: Increases risk because these firms often lack financial stability.

These strategies align with broader supply risk management principles, which focus on diversification, resilience, and proactive planning. Effective category managers must balance efficiency with risk reduction, ensuring supply continuity without over-consolidating.

NEW QUESTION # 19

Which of the following is an example of a supply chain risk? Select TWO.

- A. A cargo ship is delayed due to strike action at a port of entry
- B. Badly defined T&Cs in a contract cause a supplier to fail to deliver services effectively
- C. Lightning strikes the organisation's HQ
- D. A consultant provides bad advice to a client as they are unaware of a legislation change

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Supply chain risks are risks that involve suppliers or logistics networks and have a direct impact on procurement performance. Poorly defined contract terms (Option A) may cause service failure, while delays due to port strikes (Option D) disrupt inbound logistics. These are classic supply chain risks because they are linked to supplier performance or external logistics factors. By contrast, lightning striking HQ is an internal operational risk, and a consultant giving poor advice is a professional service risk rather than a direct supply chain issue. For procurement, identifying supply chain risks is critical to developing mitigation strategies such as alternative suppliers, buffer stock, or stronger contractual clauses. Risk assessment frameworks like the likelihood/severity matrix help prioritise which risks to address first.
