Which RAID level is most cost effective and would provide the necessary data protection without significant performance degradation?

- A. Implement a RAID 1 array with SSDs for disk mirroring
- B. Upgrade to a RAID 6 array with SSDs for dual parity protection
- C. Maintain the existing RAID 0 configuration with SSDs
- D. Migrate to a RAID 5 array with SSDs for parity-based protection

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 59

Question:

What is the function of a continuous data protection (CDP) appliance?

- A. Migrates deduplicated data from the source volume to the target volume during replication
- B. Runs data protection software and manages replications within and across data centers
- C. Intercepts writes to the production volume and splits each write into two copies
- D. Stores all data that has changed from the time the replication session started

Answer: C

Explanation:

ACDP appliances sit in the data path and:

Intercept all writes to the production volume.

Splits each write into two copies: one goes to the production volume, the other to the replica volume.

Maintains a journal for point-in-time recovery.

* Option A/B/C: These are aspects of replication, but CDP's primary function is real-time interception and splitting of writes.

NEW QUESTION # 60

Question:

When troubleshooting a virtual machine, which file is most likely to provide a detailed history of the VM's behavior?

- A. Log file
- B. Configuration file
- C. Virtual disk file
- D. Memory state file

NEW QUESTION # 61

Question:

What is a key benefit for deploying a remote data protection and recovery solution in a data center environment?

- A. Reduces the cost of protecting data
- B. Reduces required maintenance time for IT resources
- C. Avoids security risks that expose business data
- D. Maximizes application and information availability

Answer: D

Explanation:

Remote data protection and recovery solutions, like replication and cloud-based backup, are primarily designed to ensure maximum application and information availability. They protect data in the event of:

* Local failures (disk, server, or site outages)

* Natural disasters (floods, fires)

* Ransomware attacks

By having off-site copies and failover options, businesses maintain continuous access to critical data.

NEW QUESTION # 62

Question:

A backup array was able to achieve a 30:1 reduction by finding multiple copies of the same data. Which method was used in this scenario?

- A. Data encryption
- B. Data compression
- C. Data deduplication
- D. Data replication

Answer: C

Explanation:

Data deduplication is a technique that eliminates redundant copies of data, storing only unique instances.

When multiple copies of the same data are found, deduplication replaces them with references to a single stored copy, significantly reducing storage requirements.

* Data replication: Involves copying data to another location for redundancy, not reducing storage size.

* Data encryption: Secures data but doesn't affect storage size.

* Data compression: Reduces data size by encoding information more efficiently but doesn't eliminate duplicates.
