NEW QUESTION # 59

What are two basic rules Check Point recommends for building an effective policy?

- A. Implicit and Explicit Rules
- B. Cleanup and Stealth Rule
- C. VPN and Admin Rules
- D. Access and Identity Rules

Answer: B

Explanation:

Cleanup and Stealth Rules

There are two basic rules that Check Point recommends for building an effective Security Policy: the Cleanup rule and the Stealth rule. Both the Cleanup and Stealth rules are important for creating basic security measures and tracking important information.

- Cleanup Rule — A Cleanup rule is recommended to determine how to handle connections not matched by the rules above it in the Rulebase. It is also necessary for logging this traffic. Cleanup rules can be configured to allow or drop the connection. It should always be placed at the bottom of the Rulebase.
- Stealth Rule — A stealth rule is a rule that should be located as early in your policy as possible, typically immediately after any Management rules. The purpose of this is to drop any traffic destined for the Firewall that is not otherwise explicitly allowed.

In most cases, the Stealth rule should be placed above all other rules. Placing the Stealth rule among the first rules protects the gateway from port scanning, spoofing, and other types of direct attacks. Connections that need to be made directly to the gateway, such as Client Authentication, encryption, and Content Vectoring Protocol (CVP) rules, always go above the Stealth rule.

NEW QUESTION # 60

Cloud Security Posture Management uses CloudBots to assist with _____.

- A. identifying where the organization's security posture need:
- B. automatic compliance remediation
- C. securing IAM account credentials.
- D. cloud account configurations and data flows

Answer: B

Explanation:

CloudBot Remediation

Compliance remediation efforts incorporate CloudBot resources to address compliance issues. CloudBots operate in the cloud account as automated software applications perform remediations such as quarantining or terminating cloud instances. CloudBots remediate a single cloud account at a time or they may remediate multiple cloud accounts simultaneously.

CloudBots may use a custom remediation configuration, which is performed manually, or they may enforce predefined, automatic remediations which include, but are not limited to the following:

- Encrypt databases
- Rotate encryption keys
- Force password changes
- Quarantine instances
