OCPE Pesticide Applicator Category 7A General and Household Pest Control Exam Sample Questions (Q13-Q18):

NEW QUESTION # 13

Lice infestations are best treated by a:

- A. Doctor or public health official
- B. Heat treatment
- C. Residual pesticide treatment

Answer: A

Explanation:

Lice infestations (e.g., head lice) are a public health concern and are best treated by a doctor or public health official using FDA-approved pediculicides or non-chemical methods like combing. The General Pest Management: Guide for Commercial Applicators - Category 7A(Chapter 7: Lice) notes that lice treatments are typically medical, not structural pest control, and fall outside the scope of Category 7A applicators. Option B (residual pesticide treatment) is not appropriate for lice on humans. Option C (heat treatment) may be used for items like bedding but not directly for lice infestations on people.

NEW QUESTION # 14

___ toxicity has become an important issue to pesticide applicators based on their repeated use or exposure to pesticides.

- A. Periodic
- B. Acute
- C. Chronic

Answer: C

Explanation:

Chronic toxicity refers to the adverse effects of long-term, repeated exposure to a pesticide, which is a significant concern for applicators who handle pesticides regularly. This can lead to health issues like cancer, neurological disorders, or reproductive problems, as noted in the General Pest Management:

Guide for Commercial Applicators - Category 7A(Chapter 3: Pesticide Safety). Option B (acute toxicity) refers to effects from a single, high-dose exposure, which is less relevant to repeated use.

Option C (periodic) is not a recognized term in toxicology.

NEW QUESTION # 15

Control of bedbugs is best achieved through:

- A. A regimen of programmed pesticide application
- B. Use of residual insecticides
- C. Integrated pest management practices

Answer: C

Explanation:

Bedbug control is most effective using Integrated Pest Management (IPM) practices, which combine multiple methods such as inspection, monitoring, heat treatments, vacuuming, and targeted pesticide use. The General Pest Management: Guide for Commercial Applicators - Category 7A(Chapter 7:

Bedbugs) emphasizes IPM due to bedbugs' resistance to many pesticides and their ability to hide in cracks and crevices. Option A (programmed pesticide application) is less effective and can lead to resistance. Option C (residual insecticides) is a component of control but not the best standalone method.

NEW QUESTION # 16

Written notification for single-family residences must include the:

- A. Name of the pesticide used
- B. Full pesticide label directions
- C. Exact date of application

Answer: C

Explanation:

For single-family residences, NJDEP regulations (N.J.A.C. 7:30-9.13) require written notification to include the exact date of application to inform residents of when the treatment will occur. Option B (full pesticide label directions) is not required in the notification, though the label must be followed.

Option C (name of the pesticide) is typically included in post-application notices but is not mandatory in the pre-application written notification.

NEW QUESTION # 17

The first step to obtain information regarding a pesticide would be to:

- A. Read the label and/or SDS sheet
- B. Contact the EPA
- C. Call your doctor

Answer: A

Explanation:

The pesticide label and Safety Data Sheet (SDS) are the primary sources of information about a pesticide, providing details on its use, hazards, and safety precautions. The General Pest Management:

Guide for Commercial Applicators - Category 7A(Chapter 2: Pesticide Labels) emphasizes that the first step in obtaining information is to read the label and/or SDS sheet. Option A (contact the EPA) is unnecessary for routine information, as the label/SDS is readily available. Option C (call your doctor) is relevant for medical emergencies, not general information.
