In SAFe, Dunbar's number provides guidance for:

- A. The maximum number of tasks in a Program Increment for optimal predictability.
- B. The number of members on a self-managing, self-organizing ART.

- C. The percent utilization that enables a sustainable pace.
- D. The number of Stories created during PI Planning to enable commitment.

Answer: B

Explanation:
Dunbar's number suggests a limit to the size of a cohesive, collaborative group, typically cited as 125-150 people. SAFe references Dunbar's number when suggesting the optimal size of an Agile Release Train (ART).
"Dunbar's number-around 125 people-provides a guideline for the maximum size of an ART." (Source: SAFe 6.0 Framework: Agile Release Train, Dunbar's Number)

- B. Have them attend Leading SAFe training and Scrum Master orientation.
- C. Have them attend SAFe for Teams training with all other teams on the train.
- D. Have them review the SAFe Foundations presentation and provide on-the-job training.
- E. Have them attend Leading SAFe training.

Answer: C

"System Team members should attend SAFe for Teams training together with all other teams on the train to ensure shared understanding of Agile, SAFe, and the train's objectives and practices." This approach supports alignment, collaboration, and shared learning. Other answers do not ensure integration with the ART or are targeted at other roles or less comprehensive.

NEW QUESTION # 20
The portfolio Vision is an aggregation of every Agile Release Train's Vision?

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: A

Explanation:
The portfolio Vision is not simply an aggregation of the ARTs' Visions. Instead, the portfolio Vision is a higher-level, strategic expression of the portfolio's direction and purpose, informed by the enterprise strategy and objectives. While ART Visions may align to and support the portfolio Vision, the portfolio Vision is created at the portfolio level and provides the overall context for the ARTs, not the other way around.

SPC 6.0 Guide: "The portfolio vision provides strategic direction for all value streams and ARTs, and is not merely the sum of ART visions."

NEW QUESTION # 21

- A. Size of the ART
- B. Geographic distribution
- C. Significant challenge or opportunity
- D. Organizational change impact

Answer: C

Explanation:
When selecting the first Agile Release Train (ART) to launch, SAFe recommends considering where there is a significant business challenge or opportunity. This ensures strong business relevance, management attention, and clear value delivery from the transformation. Other factors like size, distribution, and change impact matter, but the most important is the presence of a pressing challenge or opportunity.
