NEW QUESTION # 477

Note: This question is part of a series of questions that present the same scenario. Each question in the series contains a unique solution that might meet the stated goals. Some question sets might have more than one correct solution, while others might not have a correct solution.

After you answer a question in this section, you will NOT be able to return to it. As a result, these questions will not appear in the review screen.

A vendor is offering a rebate program on bottles of wine that have purchase orders placed within a month.

There is a $5.00 rebate on the purchase of 10-100 bottles and a $6.00 rebate for the purchase of 101-200 bottles. Customers can purchase wine by the bottle or by the case. Discounts apply to all varieties of wine sold by the vendor.

You need to create a vendor rebate agreement to ensure that the correct rebate amount is claimed at the end of the month.

Solution: On the rebate agreement, set the start date to be the first of the month. Set the expiry date to be 30 days.

Does the solution meet the goal?

- A. No
- B. Yes

Box 1: Price group

A school that is part of the special paint program reports that a sale price on canvas last month was a better price than its paint program price. The school requests a price adjustment.

Trade Agreement Logic

Before we go and set up a trade agreement let's first discuss how the system evaluates trade agreements. When Dynamics 365 Finance and Operations evaluates trade agreements it tries to find the most specific pricing that falls within the validity dates. What I mean by "most specific" pricing is, the system checks the "Party type code" as well as the "Product code type" to see if there is a valid price specific to that customer or vendor for the specific product selected on the sales order or purchase order line respectively. Then if it cannot find that most specific combinations it looks for the next level up which are the price groups and then finally if it can't find prices at the group level it looks for prices that may apply to all vendors or customers.

Box 2: Find next on trade agreement line for select customers only

The next trade agreement type is a line discount. As the name suggests a line discount will appear on the sales order line as a percentage discount or a per unit discount depending on how the trade agreement is set up.
