NEW QUESTION # 75

What monitoring may lawfully be performed within the scope of Gentle Hedgehog's business?

- A. Only emails, website browsing history, and camera for internal video calls conducted in a non-secure environment.
- B. Everything offered by Sauron Eye's software, assuming employees provide daily consent to the monitoring.
- C. Everything offered by Sauron Eye's software in relation to activity by sales team contractors.
- D. Only emails, website browsing history, and camera for internal video calls that are expressly marked as monitored.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Under GDPR and EU employment law, employee monitoring must comply with the principles of necessity, proportionality, legitimacy, and transparency.

* Legal requirements for employee monitoring:

* Necessity: Employers must demonstrate that monitoring is necessary for a legitimate purpose.

* Proportionality: The monitoring must be the least intrusive method available.

* Transparency: Employees must be fully informed about what is being monitored.

* Why is D the correct answer?

* GDPR requires that monitoring must be explicitly communicated and justified.

* Employers can monitor work emails, browsing history, and video calls, but only if employees are clearly informed and the purpose is justified.

* Why are other answers incorrect?

* A (Monitoring all contractor activity) # Contractors have data protection rights too; monitoring must still be necessary and proportionate.

* B (Daily consent requirement) # Employee consent is not valid under GDPR in most cases due to power imbalance.

* C (Monitoring in non-secure environments only) # The location does not determine the lawfulness of monitoring.

Conclusion: The correct answer is D, as only explicitly marked and justified monitoring is lawful under GDPR.

NEW QUESTION # 76

SCENARIO

Please use the following to answer the next question:

Louis, a long-time customer of Bedrock Insurance, was involved in a minor car accident a few months ago. Although no one was hurt, Louis has been plagued by texts and calls from a company called Accidentalable offering to help him recover compensation for personal injury. Louis has heard about insurance companies selling customers' data to third parties, and he's convinced that Accidentalable must have gotten his information from Bedrock Insurance.

Louis has also been receiving an increased amount of marketing information from Bedrock, trying to sell him their full range of their insurance policies.

Perturbed by this, Louis has started looking at price comparison sites on the internet and has been shocked to find that other insurers offer much cheaper rates than Bedrock, even though he has been a loyal customer for many years. When his Bedrock policy comes up for renewal, he decides to switch to Zantrum Insurance.

In order to activate his new insurance policy, Louis needs to supply Zantrum with information about his No Claims bonus, his vehicle and his driving history. After researching his rights under the GDPR, he writes to ask Bedrock to transfer his information directly to Zantrum. He also takes this opportunity to ask Bedrock to stop using his personal data for marketing purposes.

Bedrock supplies Louis with a PDF and XML (Extensible Markup Language) versions of his No Claims Certificate, but tells Louis it cannot transfer his data directly to Zantrum as this is not technically feasible. Bedrock also explains that Louis's contract included a provision whereby Louis agreed that his data could be used for marketing purposes; according to Bedrock, it is too late for Louis to change his mind about this. It angers Louis when he recalls the wording of the contract, which was filled with legal jargon and very confusing.

In the meantime, Louis is still receiving unwanted calls from Accidentalable Insurance. He writes to Accidentalable to ask for the name of the organization that supplied his details to them. He warns Accidentalable that he plans to complain to the data protection authority, because he thinks their company has been using his data unlawfully. His letter states that he does not want his data being used by them in any way.

Accidentable's response letter confirms Louis's suspicions. Accidentable is Bedrock Insurance's wholly owned subsidiary, and they received information about Louis's accident from Bedrock shortly after Louis submitted his accident claim. Accidentable assures Louis that there has been no breach of the GDPR, as Louis's contract included, a provision in which he agreed to share his information with Bedrock's affiliates for business purposes.

Louis is disgusted by the way in which he has been treated by Bedrock, and writes to them insisting that all his information be erased from their computer system.

After Louis has exercised his right to restrict the use of his data, under what conditions would Accidentable have grounds for refusing to comply?

- A. If Accidentable also uses the data to conduct public health research.
- B. If the data becomes necessary to defend Accidentable's legal rights.
- C. If Accidentable is entitled to use of the data as an affiliate of Bedrock.
- D. If the accuracy of the data is not an aspect that Louis is disputing.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 77

SCENARIO

Please use the following to answer the next question:

Zandelay Fashion ('Zandelay') is a successful international online clothing retailer that employs approximately 650 people at its headquarters based in Dublin, Ireland. Martin is their recently appointed data protection officer, who oversees the company's compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and other privacy legislation.

The company offers both male and female clothing lines across all age demographics, including children. In doing so, the company processes large amounts of information about such customers, including preferences and sensitive financial information such as credit card and bank account numbers.

In an aggressive bid to build revenue growth, Jerry, the CEO, tells Martin that the company is launching a new mobile app and loyalty scheme that puts significant emphasis on profiling the company's customers by analyzing their purchases. Martin tells the CEO that: (a) the potential risks of such activities means that Zandelay needs to carry out a data protection impact assessment to assess this new venture and its privacy implications; and (b) where the results of this assessment indicate a high risk in the absence of appropriate protection measures. Zandelay may have to undertake a prior consultation with the Irish Data Protection Commissioner before implementing the app and loyalty scheme.

Jerry tells Martin that he is not happy about the prospect of having to directly engage with a supervisory authority and having to disclose details of Zandelay's business plan and associated processing activities.

What must Zandelay provide to the supervisory authority during the prior consultation?

- A. Certificates that prove Martin's professional qualities and expert knowledge of data protection law.
- B. An explanation of the purposes and means of the intended processing.
- C. An evaluation of the complexity of the intended processing.
- D. Records showing that customers have explicitly consented to the intended profiling activities.
