Salesforce Certified Data Architect Sample Questions (Q240-Q245):

NEW QUESTION # 240

Northern Trail Outfitters (NTO) has recently implemented Salesforce to track opportunities across all their regions. NTO sales teams across all regions have historically managed their sales process in Microsoft Excel. NTO sales teams are complaining that their data from the Excel files were not migrated as part of the implementation and NTO is now facing low Salesforce adoption. What should a data architect recommend to increase Salesforce adoption?

- A. Use the Excel connector to Salesforce to sync data from individual Excel files.

- B. Create a chatter group and upload all Excel files to the group.
- C. Define a standard mapping and train sales users to import opportunity data.
- D. Load data in external database and provide access to database to sales users.

Answer: C

Explanation:

According to Trailhead2, one of the best practices to increase Salesforce adoption is to migrate existing data from legacy systems or spreadsheets into Salesforce, so that users can access all their data in one place and leverage the features and functionality of Salesforce. Option B is the correct answer because it suggests defining a standard mapping and training sales users to import opportunity data from Excel files into Salesforce, which can help them transition from their old process and increase their confidence and satisfaction with Salesforce. Option A is incorrect because using the Excel connector to Salesforce does not migrate the data into Salesforce, but only syncs it between Excel and Salesforce, which can cause data inconsistency and duplication issues. Option C is incorrect because loading data in an external database and providing access to it does not increase Salesforce adoption, but rather creates another system for users to manage and switch between. Option D is incorrect because creating a chatter group and uploading all Excel files to it does not migrate the data into Salesforce, but only stores it as attachments, which cannot be used for reporting or analysis purposes.

NEW QUESTION # 241

Universal Containers has 30 million case records. The Case object has 80 fields. Agents are reporting reports in the Salesforce org. Which solution should a data architect recommend to improve reporting performance?

- A. Move data off of the platform and run reporting outside Salesforce, and give access to reports.
- B. Create a custom object to store aggregate data and run reports.
- C. Contact Salesforce support to enable skinny table for cases.
- D. Build reports using custom Lightning components.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 242

Universal Containers wishes to maintain Lead data from Leads even after they are deleted and cleared from the Recycle Bin. What approach should be implemented to achieve this solution?

- A. Send data to a Data Warehouse and mark Leads as deleted in that system.
- B. Query Salesforce with the queryAll API method or using the ALL ROWS SOQL keywords.
- C. Use a Converted Lead report to display data on Leads that have been deleted.
- D. Use a Lead standard report and filter on the IsDeleted standard field.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 243

Universal Containers (UC) needs to move millions of records from an external enterprise resource planning (ERP) system into Salesforce.

What should a data architect recommend to be done while using the Bulk API in serial mode instead of parallel mode?

- A. Inserting 1 million orders distributed across a variety of accounts with lock exceptions eliminated and managed.
- B. Inserting 1 million orders distributed across a variety of accounts with potential lock exceptions.
- C. Placing 20 batches on the queue for upset jobs.
- D. Leveraging a controlled feed load with 10 batches per job.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 244

Universal Containers has millions of rows of data in Salesforce that are being used in reports to evaluate historical trends.

Performance has become an issue, as well as data storage limits. Which two strategies should be recommended when talking with stakeholders?

- A. Configure the Salesforce Archiving feature to archive older records and remove them from the data storage limits.
- B. Use Data Loader to extract data, aggregate it, and write it back to a custom object, then delete the original records.
- C. Combine Analytics Snapshots with a purging plan by reporting on the snapshot data and deleting the original records.
- D. Use scheduled batch Apex to copy aggregate information into a custom object and delete the original records.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

Using scheduled batch Apex to copy aggregate information into a custom object and delete the original records can improve the performance and reduce the data storage limits by removing unnecessary data and keeping only the summary data that is needed for reporting. Configuring the Salesforce Archiving feature to archive older records and remove them from the data storage limits can also help with performance and storage issues by moving historical data to a separate system that is still accessible but does not affect the operational data
