CIPS Ethical and Responsible Sourcing Sample Questions (Q201-Q206):

NEW QUESTION # 201

Kiran is appraising some potential suppliers and has noticed that one of these suppliers has an extremely high gearing ratio. What would this suggest?

- A. the supplier is extremely profitable
- B. the supplier has a lot of long-term debt
- C. the supplier has a strong return on investment
- D. the supplier has a high cost of sales

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer is 'the supplier has a lot of long-term debt'. Gearing is a measure of how the business is being funded and looks at the ratio of debt to equity. For example if they have taken out lots of loans and mortgages, this would equate to a lot of debt which means a poor gearing ratio.

Gearing is a hot topic for the exam

NEW QUESTION # 202

Which of the following are key areas of regulations governing responsible procurement and supply?

- A. Ethical practice, data protection, and marketplace competition
- B. Company culture, product branding, and staff uniforms
- C. Competitive pricing, unsecured loans, and threats of new entrants
- D. Digitisation, artificial intelligence, and innovations

Answer: A

Explanation:

Regulatory frameworks that affect procurement focus on ethical practice (anti-bribery, modern slavery, human rights), data protection (GDPR and similar), and competition law (to prevent collusion and monopolistic practices). While digitisation and innovation are important trends, they are not regulatory requirements. Similarly, culture, branding, and uniforms are internal matters, not regulatory areas.

Responsible sourcing requires procurement professionals to ensure compliance with these regulations to protect stakeholders, maintain fairness, and safeguard organisational reputation.

NEW QUESTION # 203

Steff is a procurement manager at Giant Buttons Ltd who are considering offshoring a small section of their manufacturing operations. Which of the following is a risk of offshoring that Steff should consider.

- A. payments by electronic bank transfer
- B. importation rules and tariffs
- C. exportation rules and tariffs
- D. lower operating costs

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer is importation rules and tariffs. This is because in offshoring some of the manufacturing will be done in another country then shipped back to the UK. The products will have to go through customs so may be subject to tariffs and duties. Steff's not exporting anything in the scenario and paying electronically and getting lower costs are not RISKS.

NEW QUESTION # 204

A buyer of bakery products sees wheat shortages due to poor harvests but demand remains high. How does this affect negotiation?

- A. Buyer is in a strong position to reduce prices
- B. Prices will not be affected by shortages as demand is high
- C. Bakery produce will be lower priced as less wheat is available
- D. Buyer will find it difficult to negotiate lower prices

Answer: D

Explanation:

In commodity markets, shortages combined with sustained demand drive price increases. The buyer loses bargaining power, as suppliers can charge higher rates. Negotiating downward is unrealistic; instead, buyers should manage risk through hedging, forward contracts, or alternative sourcing. CIPS notes that responsible sourcing requires understanding market dynamics and their ethical implications (e.g., food security, affordability). The organisation must manage stakeholder expectations about pricing rather than assume negotiation leverage. This reflects the implications of market volatility in global supply chains.

Reference: CIPS L4M4 Study Guide (v2), LO: "Implications" - commodity market dynamics, supply /demand, and negotiation position.

NEW QUESTION # 205

A public sector buyer has run a competitive tender, for which there were eight bidders. All bidders have met the public sector organisation's minimum standards. In addition, they must also meet several other requirements. The buyer will make the contract award decision based on which of the following?

- A. The bidder's price
- B. Weighted criteria
- C. The supplier location
- D. Framework agreement terms

Answer: B

Explanation:

Weighted criteria allow the buyer to evaluate multiple factors, not just price, to make a fair and balanced decision. This approach ensures responsible sourcing by considering quality, sustainability, and other relevant factors alongside cost, which aligns with public procurement ethics and standards.
