NEW QUESTION # 311
You have a Microsoft 365 tenant.
All users have mobile phones and laptops.
The users frequently work from remote locations that do not have Wi-Fi access or mobile phone connectivity.
While working from the remote locations, the users connect their laptop to a wired network that has internet access.
You plan to implement multi-factor authentication (MFA).
Which MFA authentication method can the users use from the remote location?

- A. a notification through the Microsoft Authenticator app
- B. security questions
- C. a verification code from the Microsoft Authenticator app
- D. email

Answer: C

Explanation:
In Microsoft 365 and Azure AD Multi-Factor Authentication (MFA), the supported verification methods include:
* Microsoft Authenticator app (notification or verification code)
* Phone call
* Text message
* Hardware token (OATH)
According to the Microsoft SC-300 Study Guide and Microsoft Learn: Plan and deploy Azure AD MFA, the Microsoft Authenticator app offers two modes:
* Push notification - requires an active internet connection on the mobile device.
* Verification code (time-based one-time password - TOTP) - does not require internet or mobile connectivity. The Authenticator app continuously generates verification codes every 30 seconds locally on the device.
In this scenario, users are working remotely in areas without Wi-Fi or mobile network connectivity. Hence, methods relying on push notifications, SMS, or phone calls are not feasible. The only viable MFA method that works offline is the verification code from the Microsoft Authenticator app, since it functions using the device's internal clock without external connectivity.
