NEW QUESTION # 154
For each of the following statements, select Yes if the statement is true. Otherwise, select No.
NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:
No
No
Yes
Microsoft states that Communication Compliance is administered in Microsoft Purview, not the Microsoft
365 admin center. The Learn article shows configuration and policy templates "in the Microsoft Purview portal" and directs admins to "configure Communication Compliance" there, confirming the management plane is the Purview compliance portal, not the M365 admin center.
Regarding supported locations, Microsoft lists the communication channels that policies can inspect:
"Microsoft Teams... Exchange Online... Viva Engage... [and] Third-party sources." SharePoint Online is not listed among supported channels, so SharePoint content isn't monitored by Communication Compliance policies.
Finally, Communication Compliance includes built-in workflows to address findings. The Learn page explicitly provides a Remediate step: "Remediate Communication Compliance issues you investigate by using the following options:" such as "Notify the user" and "Escalate to another reviewer." These actions demonstrate that the solution does more than detect; it supports remediation within the Purview portal workflow.
Exact extracts (selected):
* "You can choose from the following policy templates in the Microsoft Purview portal."
* "Communication Compliance policies check... Microsoft Teams... Exchange Online... Viva Engage...
Third-party sources."
* "Remediate Communication Compliance issues you investigate by using the following options: Notify the user... Escalate to another reviewer."

NEW QUESTION # 156
Match the types of Conditional Access signals to the appropriate definitions.

To answer, drag the appropriate Conditional Access signal type from the column on the left to its definition on the right. Each signal type may be used once, more than once, or not at all.
NOTE: Each correct match is worth one point.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

In Microsoft Entra ID Protection, risk-based Conditional Access policies use signals such as User risk and Sign-in risk to evaluate potential threats during authentication and identity usage. These are core to adaptive access and identity protection features taught in Microsoft's SC-300 and SC-900 learning paths.
* User risk:
Defined by Microsoft as: "The probability that a specific identity or account is compromised." User risk is assessed based on activities and behaviors that indicate the account may have been compromised-such as leaked credentials or atypical user activity over time.
* Sign-in risk:
Defined as: "The probability that the authentication request is not performed by the legitimate identity owner." Sign-in risk is calculated at the time of authentication based on indicators such as unfamiliar locations, anonymous IP addresses, impossible travel, or malware-linked sign-ins.
These signals help automate access decisions, such as requiring MFA or blocking access, based on real-time risk assessments.

NEW QUESTION # 157

NEW QUESTION # 158
You have an Azure subscription.
You need to implement approval-based, tiProme-bound role activation.
What should you use?

- A. Windows Hello for Business
- B. Azure Active Directory (Azure AD) Privileged Identity Management (PIM)
- C. access reviews in Azure Active Directory (Azure AD)
- D. Azure Active Directory (Azure AD) Identity Protection

Answer: B

Explanation:
In Microsoft's Security, Compliance, and Identity guidance, Azure AD Privileged Identity Management (PIM) is the service used to manage, control, and monitor access to important resources in Azure and Microsoft 365. The documentation explains that PIM enables "just-in-time" and "time-bound" activation of privileged roles, requiring users to elevate only when needed and for a limited duration. PIM policies can require approval before a role is activated, enforce multifactor authentication, capture business justification, send notifications, and maintain detailed auditing and access review records. These controls are designed to reduce the risk associated with standing administrative privileges by ensuring that elevation is temporary, approved, and tracked.
By contrast, Windows Hello for Business provides strong, device-bound authentication; Azure AD Identity Protection focuses on detecting and remediating risky sign-ins and users; and Azure AD Access Reviews periodically reattest existing assignments but do not provide the on-demand, approval-based, time-limited activation of roles. Therefore, when the requirement is approval-based, time-bound role activation, Microsoft' s prescribed capability is Azure AD PIM, which delivers just-in-time elevation with approvers, duration limits, and audit/logging to support least privilege and Zero Trust operational practices.
